PROGRESS ON TARIFF

Bill Will Be on Its Third Reading This Week.

BIG FIGHT WILL THEN BE ON

J. Pierpont Morgan Will Get His Art Collection in Free of Duty—Crude Potash, Caustic Potash on Free List.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Washington, June 12.—Having completed consideration of items of the tariff bill that had been passed over under objections by Senators during its second reading, the adjournment of the Senate today marked an important period in the progress of the measure through the Senate. When the bill is again taken up it will be upon its third reading for the final disposition of items upon which the most pronounced objections have been made.

In completing the second reading of the bill today, a number of items in the free list were disposed of. Works of art, over 20 years old and collections illustrating the progress of the arts over 100 years old, which were placed in the free list by the committee on finance, were retained there, after an interesting debate, by a vote of 53 to 15. A fight was made on this amendment on the ground that it would allow wealthy men to decorate their homes with European oil paintings and other artistic products of the old world without the payment of duty and that it would permit the entry into this country of many art collections, now stored abroad without any benefit to the revenues of the government. The amendment was defended by both Republicans and Democrats on the ground that its result would be both educational and refining and that works of art of the age indicated could not come into competition with the products of American painters and sculptors. This will permit the great art collection made by J. Pierpont Morgan at an expenditure of many millions of dollars and now stored in London, to be brought here.

The starch industry received protection by a reversal of the recommendations made by the committee by which tapioca and sago flour will be subject to a duty of one cent a pound when not imported for food. Senator Nelson opened the fight upon the free admission of these products on the ground that they were used largely by the cotton cloth and oil cloth industries in competition with starch made from potatoes and corn. He was supported by Senator Cummins and both the Minnesota and the Iowa Senators were taken to task by Senator Aldrich for attempting to revise the tariff upwards, the Rhode Island Senator claiming that if the committee had suggested a duty on products that could not be raised in this country for the purpose of protecting other products with which they came in competition it would have been roundly denounced for such action. He also suggested that there was a combination in the starch industry.

Senators Frye and Burrows, both of whom have starch factories within their States, came to the rescue of the Western Senators, and Senator Aldrich, surrendering in the face of this opposition, accepted an amendment by which tapioca and sago flour will be admitted free only when used for food. This will place the duty upon the articles when consumed by the cotton or oil cloth industries.

Crude potash, potash carbonate, caustic potash and radium were placed upon the free list.

At 2:19 o'clock the Senate adjourned until Monday.

OUTLINES.

The principal action on tariff bill in the United States Senate yesterday was to give free admission to potash products and old works of ar, thus enabling J. Pierpont Morgan to bring from Europe a large and rich collection of European art treasures ——The mysterious change of hands of the steamer Nanticoke at Edenton, N. C., is believed to be connected with a Venezuelan filibustering expedition ——Twenty men went down to watery graves in a Russian submarine boat which was sunk in a storm in the Black Sea——Bids for two big battleships, Wyoming and Arkansas were practically approved at Washington yesterday——Senator Overman, of North Carolina, yesterday delivered a speech in the United States Senate denouncing the Payne-Aldrich tariff bill as the most iniquitous ever passed; he declared that lobyists hounded the Senators and many of the schedules were written by the protected interests——James J. ## SHIP MAY BE FILIBUSTERER

Steamer in North Carolina Waters May Help Cause.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Edenton, N. C., June 12.—The presence here of the steamer Nanticoke which so mysteriously changed hands recently at Elizabeth City after having been put in thorough repair for sea service, has aroused the government to activity, under the impression that a (Venezuelan) filibustering expedition is organizing. A revenue cutter is looking after the expedition.

Raleigh, N. C., June 12.—A dispatch from Edenton this afternoon says that the report there is that the Nanticoke left Elizabeth City yesterday for South America.

Washington, June 12.—Government agents have not received full information regarding the alleged filibustering expedition that is reported, as setting out from the North Carolina coast but what they have secured indicates that it is directed against Venezuela. Two vessels were recently sold by a New York firm, Kates & Co., that were regarded as adapted to filibustering purposes. The Nanticoke was one and a dispatch tug the name of which was not learned, was the other.

The Nanticoke formerly belonged to the Albemarle Steam Navigation Company of Franklin, Va. She is a side wheel steamer and was built at Wilmington, Del., in 1875. Recently she has been plying the Chowan river and Albemarle Sound, North Carolina. Her gross tonnage is 548 tons and her net is 394. She carries a crew of 17 ment and is a very slow craft. Her home port is Norfolk.

The revenue cutter Pamlico, whose headquarters are at Newbern, N. C., has been instructed to look after both these vessels and see that there is no violation of the neutrality laws.

ARTILLERY MANEUVERS

Game of Baseball—Service Pratice Begins Monday—Camp Notes.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Fort Caswell. N. C., June 12.—The feature of local interest in camp for the week-end was the game of baseball played yesterday afternoon between a team from the Wilmington Reserves and the Caswell Regulars, the latter winning in a score of 11 to 0. Stockel, pitcher for Caswell, did not allow a single hit to the militiamen. Yesterday afternoon there was a section for the Reserves on primers and fuses. Wilmington and Newbern held sub-calibre target practice today and made a large percentage of hits. The work was excellent. Service practice begins Monday.

Advice received yesterday in New York via the United Wireless Telegraph Company from the Diamond Shoals Lighhtship off Cape Hatteras, N. C., report that the freight steamship Patella was sighted today eighteen miles north of the lightship flying signals that she was not under control. The steamer signalled that assistance was not required. The Patella sailed from Port Arthur, Texas, June 4 for Rouen, France.

SLAVONIA USED "C. Q. D."

Wireless Feat Saved Passengers and Crew of Wrecked Steamer Slavonia—Prinzess Irene's Ready Response.

(By Cable to the Morning Star.)

Punta Delgada, Azores Island, June 12.—Wireless telegraphy played a prominent part in the saving of the crew and passengers of the Cunard Line steamer Slavonia now a total wreck two miles southwest of Flores Island. The wireless feat of the steamer Republic was equalled if not excelled. The steamer Prinzess Irene was 180 miles away when the thrilling call "C. Q. D." was picked up. Immediately upon receipt of the message of distress the operator flashed back his answer and learned the location of the stricken ship. The Prinzess Irene then hastened at full speed to the rescue, and every soul on board the Slavonia was saved.

It was shortly before the midnight of Wednesday, June 9, that the wireless distress signal was received on board the Prinzess Irene. The operator answered and immediately got a message in reply saying the Slavonia was ashore, and asking the Prinzess Irene to come to her assistance.

At this time the Prinzess Irene was 180 miles distant from the Slavonia. Her course was at once changed, and she went ahead at full speed 15 knots an hour, to the designated location, two miles southwest of Flores Island.

The Prinzess Irene arrived alongside the Slavonia Thursday afternoon. It was arranged that she should take on board the cabin passengers of the Cunard Liner and work to that end was at once begun. All Thursday night was taken up with the transfer, and the 110 passengers, men, women and children, were on board by day light. The transfer was made without a single accident.

Early Friday morning the Prinzess Irene left the Slavonia for Gibraltar.

In the meantime the wireless calls for help sent out by the Slavonia had been heard by the Hamburg-American line steamer Batavia, which also hastened to the scene of the wreck. The intermediate and steerage passengers of the Slavonia were transferred, also without accidnt, to this vessel.

There remained on board the Slavonia only the members of the crew, but according to the latest intelligence received here, the entire ship's company left the wreck and went ashore at Velas, on the island of Flores, some time on Friday morning. At that time the Slavonia was full of water and she was a total wreck.

The Slavonia was slowly feeling her way about two miles south of Flores Island, when she suddenly grounded. All efforts to back off proved fruitless and a call for help was immediately sent out.

Several Passengers Hurt.

Gibraltar, June 12.—The agents of the steamer Slavonia here have received a dispatch confirming the news that all the passengers were saved. Several of them, however, were slightly injured according to this dispatch, while being transferred to the other liners. The Prinzess Irene is expected to reach here on Monday.

FATAL EARTHQUAKE

Several Towns and Villages Devastated in Southern France.

100 DEAD; MANY INJURED

Great Suffering is Due to Lack of Necessities of Life—Number of Victims Perished in the Debris—Loss Heavy.

(By Cable to the Morning Star.)

Marseilles, June 12.—From 75 to 100 dead and 100 injured is tonight's estimate of the total casualties as the result of the earthquake which devastated several towns and villages in the southernmost part of France, particularly in the departments of Herault and Buches du Rhone. Great suffering is reported from the remotest places owing to a lack of bread and the necessaries of life before the arrival of assistance. The casualties may be greatly increased as the ruins have not yet been entirely searched. The villages of Saint Cannat and Rognes were completely demolished by the earthquake, and Lambesc, which is 12 miles from Aix, suffered heavily. According to advices received here a number of the wounded are still imprisoned in the ruins and soldiers are working desperately to rescue them. Survivors are sleeping in tents, and the streets are impassable. In many places they have been torn up and are encumbered with masses of rocks. Houses, public buildings and churches were crumbled to pieces. Among other villages seriously damaged are Vanvenargues, Venelles, Pelissanne, Puy Ste Reparade and Arguilles.

The victims at Saint Cannat and Rognez were horribly mutilated. There were evidences that several of the victims had lived for hours imprisoned by the debris before they died. The people rushed into the streets when the first shock occurred, crying out in terror. Many of them returned to the rescue of their families.

At Rognez a family of four were buried in the ruins. Their cries could be heard throughout the night, but all were dead in the morning when a rescuing party reached them.

At Saint Cannat, an old man and his son were watching a billiard game. They were instantly killed. The players escaped with slight bruises. The chateau Valmonsse near Saint Cannat was badly damaged. The communial chateau Arguilles was split in two. The historic village of Vernegues was wrecked, but no one was killed. The monetary loss in the affected districts is very heavy.

GEORGIA RAILROAD STRIKE.

Arbitrators Get Together Monday—To Select Umpire.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Washington, June 12.—Former Secretary of the Navy Hilary A. Herbert and Representative Hardwick, of Georgia, who were selected by the respective sides to settle the strike differences between the Georgia Railroad and its firemen, today agreed to hold their first meeting Monday for the purpose of choosing a third arbitrator. Mr. Herbert said tonight there was little doubt that Mr. Hardwick and himself would be able to agree upon the umpire in the controversy and that immediately thereafter hearings would be started at a point to be agreed upon later.

B. Monroe Weeks, a livery man, of Aiken, S. C., and former assistant cashier of the People's Bank, which discontinued business there in 1906, was acquitted yesterday of the charge of forgery in connection with the alleged shortage in that bank of $17,000. There are six other counts against him, all in connection with this alleged shortage. The trial consumed nearly four days.

At Rome yesterday the Pope received 107 American Pilgrims brought to Rome by John J. McGrane, of Brooklyn. The party was presented by Mgr. Falconio, apostolic delegate in the United States, and was accompanied by the Right Rev. Henry Gabriels, bishop of Ogdensburg, N. Y., and the Right Rev. B. J. Kieley, Bishop of Savannah, Ga.

OVERMAN ON TARIFF

Nonth Carolina Senator Denounces Payne-Aldrich Bill.

MOST INIQUITOUS MEASURE

It is Unjust and Full of Inequalities. Lobby Hounds Senators.—Tar Heel Statesman Favors a Tax on Incomes.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Washington, June 12.—Declaring that he believed the Payne-Aldrich tariff bill to be one of the most iniquitous tariff bills ever passed by Congress, if it is passed, Mr. Overman, North Carolina, today attacked the sincerity of the framers of the tariff bill. He announced himself in favor of Senator Bailey's income tax amendment and declared that he proposed to offer an amendment placing a head tax upon immigrants and another one giving the President power to abrogate the collection of duties on articles similar to those manufactured by a corporation which controls 50 per cent. of the American output and which offers its goods for sale in foreign countries at lower prices than in the United States. Mr. Overman also discussed the steel and lumber schedules.

Asserting that he would vote against the bill because he claimed it was unjust and full of inequalities, Mr. Overman charged that the measure was framed in the special interest of the privileged few, while the great mass of the consumers of the country would continue to groan under the heavy burdens of increased taxation. He said that the voters all during the campaign understood that there was to be a revision downward, and that he believed that the tariff plank of the Republican party was written with an honest and sincere purpose to give the people the relief they demanded. "The President of the United States is today, as he was in the last campaign, in favor of an honest revision of the tariff downward," added Mr. Overman.

"All during this extra session—and especially since the bill was reported from the House to the Senate—an army of men, representing the great interests and trusts, have been here filling these halls and hotels with selfish greed, lobbying with Senators, asking for more protection," continued Mr. Overman. "They have dogged our foot-steps in Congress and out of it. They have followed us to our offices and to our homes by day and by night, while the people at home are looking forth and expecting us to carry out our promise to give them a genuine reform. It is charged upon this floor by some of our friends on the other side (and I have not heard it denied) that some of those schedules have actually been written, not by the finance committee, but by those representatives in their own interests.

"This high protective tariff is a part of the great scheme, devised more than a century ago, whereby a moneyed aristocracy has been created in this country, and under its blighting system discontent and socialism have grown up and strikes become frequent. It is a system by which tolls are taken from the vast majority of the people to enrich the few."

Discussing the tariff in relation to the farmer, Mr. Overman said that the time has passed when the farmer can be deceived by levying a duty on corn, wheat, tobacco, cotton and other things raised upon the farm. "They know they can sell abroad and feed and clothe the world," he said. "They have learned that they need no protection, and such a provision in a tariff bill in this day and time is a shame. Under the cover of this pretended protection, which affords little or no protection on that which the farmer has to sell he is beginning to understand that he has to pay an average of 45 per cent. more on his cotton bagging, tin plates, milk pans, cooking utensils, furniture, window glass, his earthen and stone vessels, his chains, wire fencing, axes, tools and farming utensils of every description which he has to purchase and that much of this tax, which he pays goes not into the treasury of his country to swell the revenue, but goes into the pockets of the beneficiaries of such a system."

Speaking to his amendment proposing a head tax of $10 for every alien entering the United States, Mr. Overman said that it had the hearty endorsement of State Legislatures and various National Associations. "It has been held by the Supreme Court to be a constitutional tax," he said. "It is a just tax. Such an amendment as this means not only revenue to the treasury, but it means a more select class of immigration and therefore the protection of American labor and everything American." He said it would probably raise a revenue of nine or ten million dollars.

Regarding his amendment for the control of trusts and combinations, Mr. Overman said that there could no longer be any doubt about the constitutionality of its provisions, and he quoted several Supreme Court decisions in support of his contention. His amendment provides that whenever the President of the United States shall be satisfied that any company is producing more than 50 per cent. of any product consumed in the United States and that its products are exported and sold in a foreign market at a less price than in the home market, he is authorized to suspend by proclamation to that effect, in whole or in part, the collection of custom duties on any products of a like character which may be imported into this country for any period he may designate.

Mr. Overman discussed the metal and steel schedules, saying that everybody expected greatly reduced rates to be provided in those schedules, but that he had been told by a government expert that the Senate bill, taken as a whole, made no substantial reductions from the duties imposed in the Dingley bill. In this connection, he took occasion to condemn the absorption of the Tennessee Coal & Iron Company by the United States Steel Corporation and the Roosevelt administration. He also criticised the International Harvester Company, which, he said, was protected by the Senate bill. Mr. Overman also deplored the duties on lumber as being an instance wherein the farmer is made to pay a tax on what he buys.

In explanation of the differences existing between Democratic Senators, Mr. Overman said, "we have honestly differed as to whether some few articles should not go on the free list or the dutiable list. But, however, we may have differed in this respect, the party has been united on the fundamental principles of a tariff for revenue."

In reply to an assertion made by Mr. Aldrich recently that the South was a wilderness 25 years ago. Mr. Overman reviewed the dark days of reconstruction, denied Mr. Aldrich's statement, and declared that the South today is far richer than the whole country was before the war. "It has more money than its banks, more miles of railroads, more iron and coal mines, more cotton mills, than the entire country had prior to 1861. All the South asks is that she be given justice, be treated fairly and not discriminated against. She has no monopolies, no "robber barons," plutocrats or aristocratic bosses. They will not live in that climate."

DR. WARREN VINES RETURNS.

Comes Back to Asheville Church From Brooklyn, N. Y.

Raleigh, N. C., June 12.—Rev. W. M. Vines, who is now pastor of Hansom Place, Brooklyn, N. Y., has accepted a call to the First Baptist Church, of Asheville, N. C. Dr. Vines was formerly pastor of the First Baptist Church and went from there to the Free Mason Street Baptist Church of Norfolk, Va., going from there to the pastorate which he now fills. He is an eloquent preacher and a man of strong convictions. The members of the Asheville church are delighted that he has decided to accept the call.

The torpedo boat Winslow, which came to grief with the Massachusetts anval reserves aboard at Beaufort, N. C., was towed back into Charleston harbor yesterday by the tug Penacook. Her dock trial shows only slight injuries as to the vessel, which will be refitted at the Charleston navy yard.

WATERY GRAVES FOR TWENTY

Russian Torpedo Boat Kambala Sunk in a Storm in the Black Sea. Was Undergoing Trials—A Collision at Sea.

(By Cable to the Morning Star.)

St. Petersburg, June 12.—The submarine torpedo boat Kambala, of the Russian navy, has been sunk in a storm in the Black Sea, while the boat was undergoing trials. Twenty members of her crew including the captain, first lieutenant and chief engineer, perished.

The submarine flotilla was conducting a series of night maneuvers against the battleship squadron with the idea of forcing an entrance into the harbor. During the operations the Kambala, upon which was Captain Bielikoff, the commander of the flotilla, and in charge of the maneuvers, unaccountably left her course and swung across the bows of the battleship Rostislav. The two vessels collided and the submarine sank instantly. The commander of the submarine, Lieutenant Aquilonoff, was on deck at the time of the accident. He swam away and was saved, but Captain Bielikoff, Midshipman Tuchkoff, a warrant officer, and seventeen members of the crew went down with the vessel.

Up to a late hour tonight no further information with regard to the success of the efforts being made to raise the Kambala and the fate of the crew, has reached St. Petersburg. The general public and newspapers were not aware that any hope was entertained that the men might be alive. The dispatches during the day made no mention of such a possibility, but a news dispatch received at a late hour stated that the rescuers at the scene of the disaster were working with feverish anxiety in the hope that at least some of the imprisoned men might yet be alive.

This naturally is conditioned on the nature of the blow received from the Rostislav's ram. If it was severe enough to break open the plates of the submarine there would be, of course, no chance for the crew, but Admiral Roslen according to a special dispatch from Sebastopol, seems to be convinced that this was not the case.

Little needs be said of the game at League Park yesterday afternoon except that it was won by Rocky Mount in a score of three to one, wildness of Patton, the new pitcher, and a galaxy of rank errors by Accorsini at shortstop, both of whom have been released, having been largely responsible for the loss of the second of the series here with the Railroaders.

Patton was relieved in the box at the end of the fourth inning by Wysong, who pitched magnificent ball, but too late to retrieve the game for the hapless Sailors. Waymack was on the slab for the visitors and yielded but six hits, while Patton was touched up for six in four innings and Wysong for two in five. The only consolation out of yesterdays' game is the announcement that Guerrant will join the Sailors tomorow at Goldsboro and will play short. Snedden, who came to take the position of short, will be either farmed out to some other team or played in the field.

With the exception of a safe hit by Krebs through second in the first inning and an error of first, allowing Accorsini a base, there was nothing doing in the first inning yesterday but Rocky Mount started the trouble in the second when O'Gara singled over first and got third on wild throw of Patton to first, scoring on James' single to right with none down. Lambert sacrificed, Moran hit to centre and with Waymack up was caught at second, being injured in the slide and having been attended by a physician from the grandstand, later being assisted off the field by his comrades. The next Railroader fanned and there was no more scoring. Sorrell took first base for Rocky Mount and Brodie, first up for Wilmington, singled over second and was sacrificed by Levy, but Nichols fanned and Jayes flew to centre.

Patton fanned Johnson, Hemp and Krebs in succession in the third and for Wilmington Conn fanned after looking them over nicely while Patton and Sharp were out second to first. In the fourth Walsh was safe on rank error of Accorsini and was sacrificed by O'Gara; James singled to right and stole second; Lambert drove out a nice one and Walsh and James crossed the plate cinching the game. Sorrell flew to Sharp and Lambert was caught at second. Accorsini, Smith and Brodie were out in order.

In the fifth Wysong replaced Patton and Waymack flew out to Smith, Johnson out to first unassisted and Hemp to Jayes on beautiful catch. Wilmington squeezed in a single run after Manager Gwaltney demanded that Umpire Carter don mask and protector and come behind the bat to judge the balls and strikes. Levy led off with a hit for two bases but on account of his knee could make but one; Nichols drew four balls and was sacrificed by Jayes; Conn hit safely to second and Levy was caught on a slow trot home; Wysong up and Nichols came home on a throw to second to catch Conn, who went to third. Wysong walked but was out at second when Sharp hit to second. In the sixth Krebs was safe on an error of Smith and stole second but Walsh popped out to Jayes; O'Gara hit to Brodie and Krebs was thrown out at home plate; James fanned. Except for a single by Smith and a stolen base, being subsequently thrown out at third base, there was nothing in the sixth for Wilmington. A single by Lambert, first up, featured the seventh for Rocky Mount, while Conn made his second hit for Wilmington with two down and stole second, Wysong fanning. Another error of Accorsini in the eighth gave Walsh a base after two were down and the only feature for Wilmington was a pass to Smith with two down, Kite batting for Accorsini.

Snedden replaced Accorsini at short in the ninth, but had no chances. Rocky Mount was out in order. Wilmington came near scoring in the ninth after two men were down. Levy hit to right for two bases but the "umps" called it a foul and he afterwards flew out to right; Nichols flew to right; Jayes made a neat place-

DAIRYING IN NORTH CAROLINA.

It is a source of pride to North Carolinians to get commendation from the Agricultural Department at Washington for the enterprise and progress demonstrated in development along the line for which that department is so earnestly working. Our own North Carolina Board of Agriculture is co-operating with the National Department, or perhaps it is the former that is lending itself to the State Department in the good work which both are doing.

This high commendation comes from Mr. B. H. Rawles, chief of the dairying division of the United States Agricultural Department, who writes as follows to Major W. A. Graham, State Commissioner of Agriculture:

"From a study of the possibilities of dairying in the Southern States that I have had opportunity to make during the past four years I am absolutely sure that dairying is a success, especially in our Piedmont belt.

"The trouble in the past has been that our people have not had an opportunity to become familiar with handling a dairy in the most economical way, hence in the main our dairies have been failures. In establishing this industry we are accomplishing a great deal for general agriculture ,and I believe that the inclination of your board to support the work in connection with the establishment of dairying in North Carolina will be so far-reaching in its results to build up North Carolina agriculture as anything your department is undertaking, to the same extent.

"The results of the dairy field work in North Carolina have been so good that we call the attention of other States to them, and now we desire not only to call the attention of other States to the result of the work, but to the kind of support your department has given this work. Your department, therefore, is undertaking this pioneer work in setting an example which we hope to induce every Southern State to follow."

We want diversified agriculture as well as diversified manufacturing. Dairying is only one of the few industries that should be encouraged in our State, and that it has great possibilities it only need be mentioned that recently Mr. Shuford, of our State Board of Agriculture, in speaking of the wonderful improvements made in Catawba county, referred to the fact that there is now shipped from Hickory each week 2,000 pounds of fine butter made by farmers in the vicinity. The price they get for it nets them 27 1-2 cents per pound and their product goes to various parts of the State and even outside of it. There is one item alone which indicates that dairying as a special business or a side issue will pay our people.

SEABOARD RUMOR.

Currency has been given some time to a rumor that the Seaboard Air Line contemplates the building of a short cut line by way of Henderson in order to shorten the distance over the trunk line from the North to the South. In these days of fast travel a few miles of distance saved is a big item with railroads, and there may really be some truth in the report that the Seaboard is up to something. At any rate, the Raleigh News and Observer has been stirred up by the rumor, and expresses its alarm in this way:

"There is a revival of the talk that the Seaboard Air Line Railway has in mind running in a new line of trackage in North Carolina in order to shorten its route south, and that if this is done the track will pass miles to the west of Raleigh, and thus take this city off of the direct line south of that road. The presence of civil engineers of the Seaboard in Henderson a few days ago has given a new start to the report, it being said that these are surveying a route from Henderson to Bonsal. A reference to a map will show that this line would leave Raleigh considerably to the east, and off of the main line, if the proposed line is built and is made the main line. With such reports as this it behooves Raleigh to be on the lookout. It has been heard with uneasiness by a number of Raleigh citizens who are of course opposed to seeing the Seaboard main line leave Raleigh, which it is feared would be the result if a line is constructed from some point north of Raleigh to Bonsal. Raleigh, therefore, should be up and doing."

We would not like to see the State capital side tracked by the Seaboard Air Line, but when railroads are bent on providing quick passenger service from the North to the South, they give no heed of the towns they will reach or leave off the line.

OUR A. & M. COLLEGE.

The Star has received the 1909 catalogue of the North Carolina College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts, at Raleigh. While the publication presents the educational advantages and facilities to be had at this splendid North Carolina institution, it is also a record of past achievements. In addition to the various courses in agriculture, engineering and technical training, it contains a full list of the alumni of the college. A glance at the list shows that the young men educated at the college are closely following the professions for which they were trained. Many of these men are becoming a power in the States industrial and business life.

Improvements are constantly going on at the A. & M. College, and it is noted for its thoroughness and progressiveness in its training of young men. Its graduates take a high stand at home or abroad, and the institution is doing a great work in the State and for the State.

Copies of the catalogue can be had by addressing the Registrar's Office West Raleigh, N. C.

MAXTON SCOTTISH CHIEF.

The Star congratulates the Maxton Scottish Chief upon the increase of its facilities for newspaper making. A new cylinder press has been installed and the issue the past week was printed on it. Heretofore the paper has been printed one page at a time on a large job press, so it will be realized what the new press means in the way of saving labor and time and affording facilities for improving the paper. No promises have been made about improving this already excellent paper, but it is in enterprising hands and the Scottish Chief's readers will surely come in for their share of the benefit to be secured from the increased facilities with which Editor W. B. Harker has equipped himself.

When Senator Penrose, of Pennsylvania, got fresh and ruffled up the feathers of Senator LaFollette, the latter demanded of Penrose to tell the country where he spends his time when he is not in the Senate. LaFollette ought to know better than to fire off interrogations like that, for every American citizen is guaranteed the right to refuse to answer questions that will incriminate him.

That Senator LaFollette can't stand for Senator Aldrich was made plain in the tariff debate on Friday when the Wisconsin statesman told the Rhode Island Senator that he had "forfeited the confidence of the Republican party." Aldrich don't mind a little thing like that just so he gets what he's after for himself and friends who are bent on having it revised upward.

A Macon man tells what he knows about Georgia women. Nobody but a poet with a melifluous flow of rapturous words could attempt to express himself about the North Carolina variety. Even then somebody would have to accompany him on a harp with a thousand strings.

Senator Depew, of New York, made a few humorous remarks on some subject a few days ago, whereupon the Atlanta Journal harked back to those "shadows of the insurance investigation which fell upon him." This should remind the New York politician that his proper role should now be tragedy.

At least a dozen new cotton mills and a half dozen railroads are being built in North Carolina. Breaking ground for new enterprises is a daily occurrence in the enterprising and growing towns of the State.

The New York Herald says: "The Government is informed of a new anaesthetic that absolutely kills all pain." The government will need all of it that it can get, too, after it swallows the Aldrich tariff bill.

Some men went to a park in a New Jersey town and stole the band stand. Evidently the band's music had none of the quality that sooths the savage breasts of the park patrons.

Help us to forget our records! If you can't do that don't help the other politician to remember things that we have done when we didn't have an axe to grind.

CURRENT COMMENT.

—There is talk now of establishing the general office of the Clinchfield Railroad in Spartanburg, and there is no better place for them. We shall be satisfied in Charleston with the main shipping offices and the coking plant and iron furnaces, our policy being to live and let live.—Charleston News and Courier.

—It is announced that the new Reynolds tobacco factory will be in operation within six months. Winston-Salem property owners have already figured on more houses to accommodate the new residents that are constantly coming in, and the enterprise will bring its quota. Desirable renting houses at a reasonable cost are greatly needed—Winston-Salem Journal.

—The Mecklenburg Camp of United Confederate Veterans at their meeting last week decided to invite the State Division to hold their next annual reunion at Charlotte during the month of August next. This invitation will probably be acted on next week by the committee appointed at the reunion held last August at Winston-Salem, and, if it is accepted, the veterans will no doubt be entertained as pleasantly at Charlotte as they were at Winston-Salem, and this is all that could be hoped for.—Chatham Record.

—An interesting story is told about how the promoters of the Clinchfield Road have transacted their business. We do not vouch for its truthfulness; but it is a good story just the same, and is worth telling. An expert on sites was sent to Charleston to report the best site he could find here for the establishment of ocean terminals for the road. Nobody knew he was here, but after making a thorough examination of the water front he went back to the home office and reported that the most available site was on the Cooper River, north of the present terminals of the Atlantic Coast Line. The report was entirely satisfactory, as the expert found when he was quietly informed that the Clinchfield people had already bought that site. This was news to the expert, but the incident shows how the Clinchfield people do business.—Charleston News and Curier.

SAINT JOHN'S DAY CELEBRATION.

Occasion of Great Interest at Oxford, N. C., June 24th.

The celebration of Saint John's Day on the grounds of the Oxford Orphanage, Thursday, June 24th, 1909, promises to be an occasion of great interest.

An especially favorable opportunity is given people to visit and obtain a beautiful, heart-warming view of this worthy and efficient institution, in which more than 375 of the dependent homeless children of North Carolina are receiving a care and training which should count mightily in their preparation for lives of usefulness.

Since 1872, when this institution, the first of its kind in the State, was established over 2,500 girls and boys have come under its care.

The orphanage work appeals strongly to the benevolent citizens of North Carolina.

Those who attend the celebration on the 24th will, no doubt, spend a delightful day. The children will take part in the exercises which, weather permitting, will be held out in the great oak grove.

The Grand Lodge of Masons of North Carolina will convene near the noon hour in special session in the hall over the dining rooms. Grand Master S. M. Gattis will preside. After a brief meeting, according to plan, the Grand Lodge will come from the hall to the platform in the grove.

At the celebration, the address of welcome will be delivered by Mr. Dennis G. Brummitt, Mayor of Oxford.

Grand Master Gattis has appointed Col. F. P. Hobgood, of Greensboro, to deliver the oration. The exercises will be interspersed with the sweet singing of the children.

Many will, doubtless, bring baskets and enjoy their dinner out in the grove when the exercises close. Barbecue, sandwiches, fruits, confectioneries, ice cream, lemonade, etc., will be for sale from stands on the grounds.

In the afternoon, not far from 3 o'clock, a concert will be given by the children of the Orphanage from the large platform in the grove.

The Seaboard Air Line is planning to operate excursions from Raleigh, Durham, Weldon and Henderson for the occasion. The Southern Railway will grant attractive special rates and will put extra equipment on its trains touching points to which Oxford is accessible for a day's trip.

Baltimore, June 10.—Secretary A. H. McDannald, of the Travelers and Merchants' Association, received a telegram yesterday morning from President W. W. Finley, of the Southern Railway Company, which indicates to a certain extent at least, that the fight which the association has been making to obtain a better express service to the South will be successful. The telegram requested a postponement of the conference with the railway officials which had been fixed for yesterday at noon, and said the company had under consideration certain schedule changes. What changes the Southern Railway contemplates making in its schedule are unknown, but the impression exists among the officials of the Travelers and Merchants' Association that President Finley had in mind a substantial compliance with their request. The committee postponed its trip to Washington.

RALEIGH MAN A SUICIDE

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., June 12.—His throat cut from ear to ear, stark in death, decay already set in, the body of Cornelius B. Edwards, Jr., was found today in the shrubbery of Pullen Park. Close, where he had flung it after severing his own jugular vein, was a big knife. The suicide was a son of C. B. Edwards, of the Edwards & Broughton Co., printery. He was addicted to drink and dope. He leaves a wife and five small children.

Claiming that the woman, with whom officers of the law claim he is living on all too intimate terms, is his daughter or adopted daughter, (he has set up both claims), George O. Harris, formerly of Richmond, Va., was arrested here this morning and will have to prove in Justice Roberts' court his kinship with the woman in order to avoid conviction and sentence for living with her illegally. The woman was also arrested. They were at the union depot when taken in custody and Harris says they were waiting to take the train for Richmond where he says he has near relatives including a wealthy son.

Harris came to Raleigh several months ago and for some time ran a small mercantile business. This he sold out more than a month ago and since that time he has had no business. When he came here he connected himself with Central Methodist Church and has all along been quite active in the church and Sunday School work, being a teacher in the Sunday School until ugly stories about him and his daughter, as she was termed, began to be noised about. The trial was to have been held this morning at 11 o'clock but was continued in order to allow time asked by Harris who said he desired to bring witnesses from Richmond and elsewhere for his defense. He put up cash bonds of $100 each for himself and the woman.

Commissioner of Agriculture Graham says that information coming to him from many sections of Western Carolina is to the effect that lowlands are flooded and uplands very badly washed by heavy rains the past few days. The damage to low land crops is especially serious. Hon. A. Cannon, member of the State Board, writes from his home in Henderson county that floods due to terrific down-pours of rain have flooded that entire section of the State and practically ruined the crops of hay and corn especially. News from the State's prison farm in Halifax county on the Roanoke river is that 300 acres of corn is under water with the rains the heaviest in 20 years and 30 feet of water in Roanoke river.

Charters were issued today for the C. R. Dodson Co., of Kinston, $15,000 capital, and the R. P. Watson Co., Wilson, $25,000 capital, for mercantile business, the incorporators being the same.

Trouble Makers Ousted.

When a sufferer from stomach trouble takes Dr. King's New Life Pills he's mighty glad to see his Dyspepcia and Indigestion fly, but more he's tickled over his new, fine appetite, strong nerves healthy vigor, all because stomach, liver and kidneys now work right 25c. at R. R. Bellamy's.

Among the pleasant fishing trips recently enjoyed by visitors at Wrightsville was that participated in by Dr. A. F. Fletcher and wife, of Tampa; Dr. and Mrs. J. H. McIntosh, of Columbia, and Mr. W. C. Carrington, of Spartanburg, all of whom are guests at the Seashore Hotel. The party left the trestle on Thursday morning in the sharpie Virgie May, in command of Capt. Wells, and cast ther lines on the Two Mile Rocks, where they landed forty-four splendid trout and a number of pig fish. The fishing at Wrightsville this season, both in the Banks Channel and outside, has been exceptionally good, and the large number caught there has caused many enthusiastic "disciples" to take advantage of the opportunity to make a good haul.

Hundreds of Wilmington people flocked to the beach on Tuesday evening to participate in the pleasures of the beautiful Japanese Dance, which was decidedly one of the most delightful entertainments in every respect, ever given at "Lumina." The enormous pavilion and ball room presented a veritable Oriental scene and the decorations were both artistic and elaborate. From the ceiling of the ball room were hung a number of huge Japanese parasols, which were inverted, and from each of these were suspended many lanterns of all sizes and shapes. The walls and ceiling all over the building were elaborately decorated, and the tinkling of the wind bells and the odor of incense which was wafted throughout the entire building by the ocean breeze, completed the Oriental scene. The music was most appropriate, and the attendance was the largest ever known at "Lumino." The next special dance will be the "Dance of All Nations" which is being eagerly anticipated by all.

Speaking of the Yackety Yack for 1909, the Observer, of June 9th has the following of interest: "Compiled and created on by far the most expensive scale in its nine years' history. The Yackety Yack, the State University annual, has appeared in a form which would be creditable to any institution in the United States. Its aim as set forth by the editors has been more than attained: "To present University life in all its phases and activilities." To the editor-in-chief, Mr. Henry Plant Osborne, and and his staff of some score associates, are due the praise, together with the business managers, Messrs. Benjamin Leonidas Banks, Jr., and Thomas Joseph McManis. Every department has been handled in masterly style—no work of the novice is here. The book is dedicated to one of Carolina's successful alumni, Hon. Walter Clark. The introductory article is a biographical sketch of Chief Justice Clark by Mr. N. W. Wallace. One of the most interesting features is a brief characterization of each of the seniors, accompanied by an excellent photogravure. An article worth reading is "The University Man as Conceived by Three Seniors." By it is afforded a clear conception of the high ideal that each student has created for himself. Another readable article is "The Non-Fraternityman." Here is set forth his views on the subject of organization. A number of clever poems brighten the pages—especially good are some from the pen of S. H. Lyle, Mr. A. C. Hutchison, Jr., of this city, contributed generously to the excellent cartoon work. In the neighborhood of a thousand copies have been sold at $2 each."

The following from the Nashville "Tennesseean" of recent date, will show what other cities think of the necessity of playgrounds, and as the long, hot Summer season approaches, it once more draws one's attention to the fact that Wilmington is sadly lacking in this great respect, where the children of the city, who are not fortunate enough to leave the city, and enjoy the refreshing sea breezes so near by, might at least, have some means provided for them, to enjoy a fitting place for their recreation. The "Tennessean" says: "There was held yesterday a meeting of the board of park commissioners, at which time considerable additional equipment for several playgrounds in the city was ordered. The parks where this equipment, consisting of swings, etc., will be located are: Watkins Park, Richland Park, Centennial Park and Fatherland Street Park. Although considerable equipment had been installed in the playgrounds for the use of the children of the different sections of the city, it was found that the wants of the children had not been fully filled, and the commissioner decided that they would enlarge the facilities immediately. The ordering of the additional equipment yesterday was the result and it will be installed in the parks named immediately.

Burgaw, N. C., June 10.—A very pretty wedding was celebrated at Burgaw Thursday afternoon, June 10th, at 4 o'clock when Mr. Hugh Overstreet led to the altar Miss Katherine Paddison, the accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred H. Paddison, the Rev. Mr. Sikes officiating. The attendants were Mr. J. R. McNeil with Miss Annie Barnes, Mr. Platt Davis with Miss Grace Bland, Mr. David H. Bland with Miss Anna Douglas Hand, Mr. R. H. Paddison with Miss Sallie Herring, Mr. Bernice Moore with Miss Winnie McWhorter, Miss Maud Paddison was maid of honor and Mr. William Perry was best man. Master John Carl Paddison was ring bearer and little Misses Mary Perry and Isabelle Paddison were ribbon girls. The bride was given away at the altar by her father. She was attired in a becoming gown of batiste over mesaline and wore the customary bridal veil which was caught up with orange blossoms. The bridesmaids all wore white batiste and veils and carried pink carnations. Mendelssohn's and Lohengrin's wedding marches were beautifully rendered by Miss Cora Moore and Schubert's serenade was played during the ceremony. The wedding took place in the Presbyterian church which was tastefully decorated with palms and ferns, the color scheme being pink and white. Immediately following the ceremony a reception was tendered the bridal party at the home of the bride's parents. Mr. and Mrs. Overstreet left on the 5:15 train for the home of the bridegroom at Meridian, Miss., and were accompanied by the bridal party to Wrightsville Beach to spend the evening, the schedules being such as to allow ample time for the merry party to make this little trip without interfering with the itinerary of the bridal couple. The popularity of this happy pair was fittingly attested by the large number of useful and costly wedding gifts, several States being represented in the collection. Among the out-of-town guests were Miss Annie Barnes, of Reidsville; Miss Winnie McWhor-

My International Sale
Has Caught the Public Fancy

Imported Fabrics at $19.00 Per 2-Piece Suit

I have secured a big range of imported fabrics from The International Tailoring Co., of New York City, and irrespective of their original cost, every yard will be closed out at 1 price. The suit may cost $25 to $40, but it makes no difference. From any fabric in the list we will make a 2-piece suit for

$19.00

¶Europe and America are neck and neck, showing clearly that there are as many men willing to pay $19 for a 2-piece suit as there are to pay $12.50. And it proves further that our $12.50 suits have as many friends as those of the higher price. But it makes no difference whether you select a foreign fabric or a domestic one, you will be eminently satisfied with your bargain, for, irrespective of where you go, you will find it impossible to duplicate their values. The sale is now six days old, and it will stop when the fabrics are cleared out. This may be at any moment, so don't delay.

DomesticFabrics at $12.50 Per 2-Piece Suit

I have made a similar arrangement with The International Tailoring Co.'s domestic fabrics, and will sell them also at a great reduction in price. These made-to-measure suits range in price from $18 to $25, but from now on until every yard is sold, I will sell each 2-piece suit for $12.50

NOTICE—Owing to the small profit on this sale these prices are STRICTLY CASH.

A REVIVAL OF BUSINESS

Industrial Plants Beginning Operations — Railroads Purchasing Equipment—Municipal Bonds Active—Steel Trade.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Baltimore, June 12.—Reviewing the business outlook the Manufacturers' Record mentions this week among rapidly accummulating evidences of a revival of activity in many lines several new enterprises of far-reaching importance.

The Consolidation Coal Co., of Baltimore will spend $5,000,000 in the development of 30,000 acres of coal land in eastern Kentucky, building a short railroad to connect with the Chesapeake & Ohio's Big Sandy branch and putting in mining equipment for an output of 1,000,000 tons a year.

During the week contracts have been let to the Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Co., of Newport News, Va., for four steamships for the Gulf trade to cost $3,000,000, and for a Government boat to cost $629,000, while contracts have been secured by the Maryland Steel Co., Sparrows Point Md., for three steamships for the Pacific trade to cost about $1,750,000, and for a large bay steamer. The Maryland Steel Company has also decided to begin the immediate construction of an open hearth steel plant as an addition to its present equipment, at a cost of about $1,000,000.

The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Co. will shortly be in the market for from 5,000 to 8,000 freight cars which will represent an outlay of from $5,000,000 to $8,000,000, and in addition to this will probably put in a large order, in the near future for locomotives and passenger cars, making a total estimated at about $10,000,000.

These few great undertakings are indicative of the reviving tendency of business and of the disposition on the part of railroads, steamship lines and local companies to enlarge their operations by heavy investments.

Another impressive sign of returning prosperity is the liberality with which towns, cities, counties and States are incurring debts for public improvements of all kinds. There is a vast amount of this sort of thing under way. Many of the new issues are reported from the South, where loans have been floated in extraordinary numbers since the first of the year for waterworks, light and power plants, sewers, city halls, court houses, schools, and other public buildings. There is comparatively little difficulty encountered in the marketing of securities of this variety of enterprises, such bonds being usually in favor with conservative investors, and they are brought up in large amounts by financial houses who make a specialty of handling them.

Still another testimony to the coming of prosperity is the decrease in the number of idle railroad cars. Early in January there were 332,500 cars reported idle; now there are 272,600, and the decline during the last five months has been very steady, the halts being of practically no importance. It is true that last October there were only 100,000 idle cars, but that was at a season of the year when railroad traffic is greatest, and the probability is that the coming fall will see a heavy decline in the number of idle cars as compared with last autumn. Apropos of this it must be observed that railroads are again placing equipment orders with the builders of cars and locomotives.

Reports from the steel-making districts are also encouraging and point to increasing demand and a more extensive employment of facilities. Considering all these things in connection with the improving reports of railroad earnings, anticipations of expansion in all lines during the last half of the current year are not only warranted, but are almost compelled upon us.

HOW TO GET FAT.

Use Samose, Says Druggist Bunting and Put on Good Flesh.

The almost universal interest in physical culture is the best evidence that can be offered as to the need of a simple and scientific method of making thin people fat, increasing strength and restoring health.

Athletics, when carried to an extreme, often result in straining the vital organs. How much better it would be for the average person to regain health, strength and flesh by using Samose. This flesh-forming food is assimilated as soon as it enters the stomach; it helps the organs to assimilate the food and extracts the flesh forming elements; it builds up the muscles and rounds out the limbs into shapely plumpness.

Samose has been so successful in making thin people fat and restoring the weak and run down to strength and health that J. Hicks Bunting, the popular druggist, sells it under his personal guarantee to refund the money if it does not benefit.

An offer like this certainly shows remarkable faith in the powers of Samose to do all that is claimed for it. No one should suffer any longer from a thin, run down condition, now that Samose's remarkable powers are known.

Sent postpaid on receipt of price, 50c.

A marriage of much interest during the past week, at Clinton, N. C., was that of Miss Penelope Wright, a daughter of Mrs. B. V. Wright, to Dr. Louis R. Wilson, Librarian and member of the faculty of the University of North Carolina. The marriage took place at "Coharrie" the attractive home of the bride's parents, and the ceremony was performed in a room where many of her Revolutionary ancestors were wedded. A large crowd was in attendance, and the decorations carried out the color scheme of white and green, and were usually tasteful and elaborate. The bride was beautifully gowned in white satin, trimmed with real lace, and wore a beautiful veil which was caught up with orange blossoms. The maid-of-honor, Miss Betty Wright, was becomingly attired in white net over silk, and carried white carnations. The best man was Mr. R. N Wilson ,of Gainesville, brother of the groom, while the groomsmen were, Mr. I. C. Wright, of Clinton, brother of the bride, and Dr. J. G. Murphy, of Wilmington. Many out-of-town guests were present, and the marriage was one of the most brilliant that has taken place in this section for sometime.

The following from the Jacksonville Times-Union will be read with interest by many Wilmington friends: "Miss Catherine Hawkins gave the members of the delightful young set of which she is a member, a most charming opportunity last evening of meeting her guest, Miss Alice Noble, of Chapel Hill, N. C. Miss Hawkins and Miss Noble were assisted in receiving their guests by Miss Nadia L'Engle, who will leave tonight for the University of Georgia commencement. All three wore the daintiest of Summer frocks, and were a most attractive trio. Cut flowers and growing ferns were tastefully disposed throughout the rooms of Miss Hawkins' lovely home, and from 8 o'clock to 10 a crowd of congenial young people enjoyed every passing moment. The punch bowl was placed on an artistically decorated table, and here a bevy of attractive young ladies served during the evening. They were Misses Peanna Rogers, Charlotte Haughton, Mary DeSaussure and Fannie Blois. The hostess was assisted in entertaining her guests by her very charming mother, Mrs. Walter Hawkins. Mrs. Hawkins was assisted in serving the refreshments by Misses Ruth Upson, Mina Woltz, Esther DeSaussure, Mae McMillan, Julia Beville, Rebecca Kyle, Sara Denham, Lucy Bowden, Annie Cad Coles, Mary Taylor and Mildred Beville.

THE WEEK AT LUMBERTON

Regular Schedule on Virginia & Carolina Southern—Pythian Notes. Personal and General News Items—Other Notes.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Lumberton, N. C., June 12.—Beginnig Monday a regular schedule will go into effect on the Virginia & Carolina Southern Railroad. A first-class passenger train will leave Lumberton at 9:20 A. M., connecting with A. C. L. northbound trains at Hope Mills, returning will arrive here at 1:20 P. M. The afternoon train will leave at 3:25 and connect at Hope Mills with southbound A. C. L. trains; returning will arrive here at 6:50. A local freight will make a round trip from Hope Mills daily except Sunday. It is interesting to see how rapidly freight can now be handled for Lumberton. The V. & C. S. people claim to put freight in here from Charleston a day ahead of the other roads, while Richmond shipments come almost as quickly as by express. Mr. Beverly, of the Seaboard, and Mr. Head, of the V. & C. S. are both clever gentlemen and both are hustling for business.

Last Sunday night two Lumberton young men drove seven miles in the country to visit two young ladies, and while they were engaging themselves in the company of the ladies, some jealous-hearted fellow or fellows hitched their horse to the buggy and started him off in the direction of home. When the discovery was made the horse had the start on them, but as he traveled leisurely along without a driver allowed himself to be overtaken by the young men just before reaching home. As a result of a long hard run the young men had a narrow escape from moon-stroke or sun-stroke, to say nothing of badly blistered feet.

The handsome residence of Colonel N. A. McLean has been repainted which adds much to its already attractive appearance.

Some people who did not attend the Pythian meeting Monday night, but were near enough to hear the delightful music, were of the opinion that a band had been employed from elsewhere to furnish the music for the occasion. We wish to correct that impression by saying that the music was furnished by native Lumberton musicians, and we think as good as could be found anywhere, especially when the fact is considered that there is no regular organization, but just get together and play when their services are needed.

Our prediction is that somebody is going to get in trouble if they persist in climbing the trees in the vicinity of the artesian well to take kodak pictures of passing events. The very idea of taking a shot at a gentleman when he wakes up very early in the morning with thirsty feeling and hastens a considerable distance to the well to quench his thirst before stoppin to dress.

Messrs. W. C. Thompson, representing Lumberton Lodge No. 35, and C. B. Skipper, representing Unity Lodge No. 202, K. of P., attended the meeting of the Grand Lodge in Hendersonville this week, and as usual of course had an enjoyable trip.

A special train was run to Hope Mills last night to accommodate those who desired to attend the fiddlers' convention.

Dr. S. B. Rozier, a former Robesonian, but who now resides in Fayetteville, has been spending several days here with his daughter, Mrs. Mollie Norment. Though 85 years old, the doctor is remarkably well preserved, and looks much younger than many men not much more than half his age.

Several hundred people went on the Sunday School excursion from here to Jackson Springs yesterday, returning last night about 11:30.

Prof. and Mrs. T. P. DeGafferelly who have been taking a two week's vacation are expected in Lumberton tomorrow, and it is supposed the moving picture show will resume business Monday night. The weather is now warm enough to take advantage of the electric fans which are used in the show.

A lot has been purchased on North Elm street, just north of the building being erected by the Messrs. Norment, on which an Episcopal church is to be erected. Messrs T. L. Johnson and L. C. Townsend have also purchased lots in the same vicinity and will, we understand, put up handsome residences in the near future. North Lumberton is rapidly building up.

Mrs. C. B. Townsend and daughters, Misses Vivian and Claire, who have been spending some time in Virginia where Miss Claire was receiving treatment, returned home this week. Miss Claire is greatly improved.

Mr. Julian Pope has disposed of his drug business which he recently established at Clarkton, and after spending a few days here with his parents, will probably go to Indiana with a view to locating there.

Parlor car service is advertised to go into effect on the Seaboard between Hamlet and Wilmington today.

A one week term of Robeson Superior Court will convene Monday, but owing to the hot weather and busy time with the farmers the Lumberton bar decided not to try any cases requiring a jury and the term will be very short.

Mrs. Fred Lane and sister-in-law, Miss Bessie Lane, who have been spending the week here with relatives and friends, expect to return to their home at Dillon, S. C., tomorrow morning.

Refreshing rains continue in this section and all crops are growing nicely.

Messrs. J. A. McDougald and John D. McAllister have established bachelors headquarters in the cottage on the corner of Mr. G. B. McLeod's residence lot, where they expect to reside. Among the first articles ordered to make their rooms comfortable and home-like was the Daily Star, two copies to be furnished on Sunday. Men of good judgment.

A letter received this morning from Mrs. Dr. McPhaul, who is with her husband in Fayetteville where he is sick of typhoid fever, brings the information that for the past two days his temperature has reached the highest point of any time since he was taken sick.

A Ride to the Pier

A Mechanical Engineer

Known throughout the North West, writes as follows:

The Herpicide Co.,
Detroit, Mich.

Gentlemen:—

I am pleased to thus express my appreciation of the comfort that your Herpicide has afforded me. About 10 days ago, the first real warm weather we had, my head began to itch as a result of irritation, and on the following day my scalp was apparently on fire. I was positively restless. In the evening I went to a druggist and bought your Herpicide and Soap. I took a thorough shampoo and applied the remedy as directed. The irritation was at once relieved. I regard Herpicide as a splendid antiseptic, even if microbes are not present in the scalp. The use of Herpicide affords relief and benefit. No flakes of white dust on the coat collar, irritation allayed, and real comfort from a cool, clear head during the heated days, and a clean head at all times.

THE MURCHISON NATIONAL BANK of Wilmington.

Wilmington, N. C., June 9th, 1909.

To the SMALL MERCHANT,

Dear Sir:—If you buy money orders in making remittances, or register letters containing currency, you are practicing extravagance, and at the same time people to whom you remit form the impression that you are not well informed as to proper business methods.

If you will open a checking account at this bank and pay every bill with your own check, you will not only save many dimes and quarters that now go to waste, but will establish yourself with the only class of merchants which succeed—they all use their own checks in remitting.

There is another and more valuable feature—the bank will practically keep your cash account, and the bankbook, balanced each month, will show how much money you took in, how and to whom you paid it, and how much is left.

Yours truly,
THE SOUTHERN NATIONAL BANK.

—The Glendale Truck Farm, situated near Chadbourn, containing 120 acres of fine farm land will be sold at public auction on Saturday, June 19th. In addition to the sale of the farm the personal property of Mr. B. H. Harnley, the proprietor, will also be disposed of.

—The revenue cutter Seminole returned yesterday from Bald Head Island, where for the past two days the crew participated in target practice. Conditions for shooting were poor, but a number of excellent records were made. The Seminole will leave July 2nd for Poughkeepsie, N. Y., to patrol during the inter-collegiate regatta.

STATE TEACHERS' ASSEMBLY

Twenty-Sixth Annual Session in Morehead City This Week.

A number of teachers of New Hanover county expect to attend the 26th annual session of the North Carolina Teachers' Assembly, which convenes at the Atlantic Hotel, Morehead City, Tuesday and continues in session through Friday. Prof. Washington Catlett, county superintendent of public instruction, who usually attends the Assembly, finds it impossible to go to Morehead City this week.

The railroads have offered reduced rates on account of the meeting. From Wilmington via Goldsboro the fare will be $7.30 and via Newbern, $5.10.

The programme this year is one of the most attractive ever arranged by the Assembly and greater benefit than ever is expected to result from the gathering. The officers are expecting a very large attendance of the school teachers from all sections of the State.

CONTROVERSY OVER CHICKS

Experts Called in to Testify as to Age of Biddies.

An interesting controversy over the ownership of three small chickens was settled in Justice Bornemann's court yesterday morning. The main point in the case was relative to the age of the chickens and to determine this question two expert poultrymen were brought into court as witnesses.

The action was brought by Maria Verien, colored, against Mamie Rusgell, colored, who alleged that the latter stole three small chickens which belonged to her. The prosecutor claimed that the chickens were hatched the 1st of March and the experts testified that the chickens could not have been more than six weeks old, the age claimed by the defendant. Justice Bornemann gave the defendant the possession of the chickens and taxed the prosecutor with the costs.

MISS SHORT A PASSENGER.

With Party of Friends on Wrecked Cunard Liner Slavonia.

Word has been received by relatives from Miss Marguerite Short, a sister of Mrs. A. B. Skelding, of this city, who, with a party of friends was on the Cunard Liner Slavonia, which was stranded Friday off Flores Island in the Azores group, that the party was transferred with several hundred other passengers in safety to two other liners, which were near at hand and rendered timely aid.

Miss Short and her party were bound for Naples, Italy, to tour during the Summer months, and will proceed to their destination on the other steamer, which was also bound to that port. The Slavonia is reported to have been a total loss and the rescue of passengers at sea, as usual, was a thrilling one.

Real Estate Transfers.

Two deeds were filed for record yesterday as follows: John P. Quelch and wife to J. W. Powell and wife for $500 and other considerations, lot on Fifth, 231 feet from Ann street 33x165 feet in size, the parties of the first part reserving an alley, of four feet through the property; Susan E. Moore, executrix, and P. Q. Moore and Henry Roger Moore to D. L. Gore, for $10 and other considerations, 181 acres of land on the Gordon road near Smith's creek, in Cape Fear township.

The Boys' Brigade team was overwhelmed in a contest yesterday afternoon with the A. C. L. aggregation at Hilton park, the score being 15 to 1. Quite a crowd gathered to witness the contest, which was featured by a number of good plays to the credit of each team. The batteries were, A. C. L., Green and King; Boys Brigade, Gore and Dosher.

Be sure to attend the Summer millinery opening next Wednesday at Rehder's. **

A DELICIOUS FLAVOR for properly cooking delicacies obtained with SAUER'S FLAVORING EXTRACTS

WHITE WASH FABRICS.

Hundreds and hundreds of yards of snowy billow white, clear and as spotlessly white as the fleecy clouds which hang over the snow-topped mountains. Sheer white Lawns and Swisses, soft lustrous Madras, and sturdy Suitings, of Flaxon, Linens and Linenes. Beautiful fabrics every one that sound the clarion note of desirability in Summer white stuff. White is always beautiful,always attractive and especially so at this season of the year when the sun nymphs dance on hill and plain. You love beauty, of course you do, then come revel in the beauties of artistic handicraft in beautiful cottons.

WHITE LAWNS.

Nothing ever seems to take the place of white lawn, Winter and Summer alike, but especially when Old Sol hovers overhead it is in great demand.

Its open texture, its sheerness makes it cool and comfortable at all times. Also it stands wear and tear well and for a host of other reasons it is without a peer for shirt waists and similar garments. We have a most complete line, 5c to 25c per yard.

KILLKENY WHITE LINEN SUITINGS
19c Quality Reduced to 12 1-2c.

'Twould be almost like carrying coals to New Castle to describe the beauties and the good qualities of Killkeny Linens to Wilmington women folks. There's not a one who doesn't know of its rugged, never wear out qualities, its ability to meet every test.

For that reason the news of this striking reduction in them should be most welcome. We doubt if they will linger long at the price. If you would save many a dollar toward the vacation fund come early.

WHITE MADRAS.

Madras with its soft, lustrous weave and texture is one of the leading candidates for Miladi's favor. It is here in a host of different weaves and designs ready to tempt with both beauty and price.

Its popularity depends upon its wonderful combination of beauty and strength, its ability to give wear and service. Come look the new stuffs over.

WHITE DOTTED SWISS.

The beauties of the dotted Swiss have been sung in song and story. There seems to be something about this dainty little weave that attracts everyone.

Yet, as one gazes on them, these early Summer days as they lay resplendent in the beauty of early Summer, one soon realizes why they hold so great a charm for even mere man.

The new Summer weaves await you 12 1-2 to 35c.

FLAXON SUITINGS.

The name Flaxon has swept the country from coast to coast and from the lakes to the gulf. Behind everything there is a reason and the reason in this case is thenatural hardihood of the fabric combined with its natural beauty. No sturdier suiting ever left the loom. Certainly none ever looked their worth more. 15c and 25c per yard.

WHITE LINENES.

These hardy imitations are well in the van of popular favor this Summer. They are especially adapted for the tailored waists and suits and similar purposes.

Good sturdy threads, closely woven have formed a fabric which only experts can tell from real linen. If you want a fabric that will stand the hard knocks without showing the least wear, you should buy these white linenes.

PROF. ALEXANDER GRAHAM BELL said:
"Find the Newest, Greatest Business Invention and Buy Its stock."

¶ When a new invention which improves intercommunication becomes commercially established cn a net profit basis, an enormous increase in the market price of its stock quickly follows.

¶ Western Union Telegraph, Bell Telephone, Electric Light, Linotype, Air Brake, Kodak and Multigraph, each created great fortunes for those who invested in the stock after the commercial value of the inventions was established.

¶ The United Wireless Telegraph Company controls the Wireless field in America and operates the greatest commercial wireless telegraph system in the world, supplying constant reliable service at a substantial profit to the Company. The superiority of its system is proven by covering the greatest distances, maintaining communication under all conditions of weather and the establishment of its stations in a score of foreign countries.

¶ "UNITED WIRELESS" TELEGRAPH AND TELEPHONE is conceded to be the greatest future money maker. It is now established as commercially useful and the rapid advancement in the price of its securities has begun.

SOUTH CAROLINA BANKERS

Ninth Annual Convention to be Held at Seashore Hotel, Wrightsville Beach, This Week—The Full Programme Announced.

Wilmington and Wrightsville Beach will have the pleasure this week of entertaining the ninth annual convention of the South Carolina Bankers' Association, which convenes in the assembly room of the Seashore Hotel Wednesday evening, June 16th, with some 200 of the representative bankers of South Carolina in attendance.

The association will continue in session through Friday. Many of the bankers will be accompanied by members of their families and in addition to the annual business and the pleasure of listening to several able addresses the visitors are expecting a royal time socially.

The "Bankers' Special," which will bring a majority of the money-handlers, will start from Columbia, S. C., at 1 o'clock on the afternoon of the 16th and will arrive at the Wilmington station at 7 o'clock, being met there by suburban cars which will convey the party directly to the Seashore Hotel, where, after supper, the opening session will be held.

The convention will be called to order by the president, Mr. T. B. Stackhouse, of Columbia, after which Rev. A. D. McClure, pastor of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, will offer prayer. The address of welcome will be made by Mr. William Calder, president of the Wilmington Clearing House Association, and will be responded to in behalf of the South Carolina bankers by R. B. Caldwell, vice president of the Commercial Bank, Chester, S. C., following which announcements will be made and adjournment taken. The visitors will then attend a reception and ball.

Thursday will be spent on the Revenue Cutter Seminole. The visitors will take special cars of the Tidewater Power Company in front of Seashore Hotel at 9 o' clock in the morning and go to the government dock, where they will board the Seminole at 9:45 o'clock. At 10:15 o'clock the convention will be called to order aboard the boat and the annual address of President Stackhouse will be delivered, and reports will be received from the secretary and treasurer, Mr. Giles L. Wilson, of Spartanburg; the executive committee by Mr. John M. Kinard, chairman, of Newberry; the legislative committee by Mr. D. A. Spivey, chairman, of Conway; delegates to Denver convention of American Bankers' Association by Mr. J. P. Matthews, of Columbia, vice president for South Carolina. Committees on resolutions, auditing and nominations will be appointed.

The party will visit and inspect Fort Caswell. There will be a practical demonstration of the working of the large disappearing guns of the fort, the electrical firing devices, and a multitude of intricate means employed for successful and energetic combat and defense in time of war, including the making and examination of the submarine mines, range finding instruments, electrical firing wires, et cetera. Upon re-embarking the boat lunch will be served. A trip to sea will probably be taken in the afternoon, the boat returning to Wilmington late in the afternoon. The visitors will go immediately to the Seashore Hotel, where they will get supper, after which they will go to Lumina, where they will be the guests of the Tidewater Power Company at a big dance.

Friday, the closing day, will be one of the busiest of the convention. At the morning session, which will convene at 10 o'clock, the convention will be privileged to hear an address by Hon. Charles H. Treat, treasurer of the United States, who will have as his subject, "Favorable to a Central Bank." Other addresses will be as follows: "Synopsis of 'History of Banking in South Carolina,'" Mr. W. J. Montgomery, president of the Farmers and Merchants' Bank, Marion, S. C., and ex-president of the association; "Duties," Mr. John D. Walker, president of the First National Bank, Sparta, Ga., and of other Georgia Banks; "The Value of Bank Examinations," Mr. Lee G. Holleman, president of the People's Bank, Anderson, S. C., and ex-bank examiner of the Palmetto State.

The afternoon session will convene at 3 o'clock and the feature will be an address by Colonel F. H. Fries, president of the Wachovia Loan and Trust Company, Winston-Salem, and a member of the Postal Savings Bank committee of the American Bankers' Association. "Bank Taxation," will be the subject of an address by Colonel J. A. Banks, president of the Home Bank, St. Matthews, S. C. The remainder of the session will be taken up with the reports of committees and the election and installation of the new officers.

The annual banquet of the association will be served in the assembly room of the Seashore Hotel Friday evening, beginning at 9 o'clock.

The officers of the Association are: President, Mr. T. B. Stackhouse, vice president National Loan and Exchange Bank, Columbia; vice president Columbia Savings Bank and Trust Company, and president of Bank of Dillon, Dillon; vice president, Col. D. D. McColl, president Bank of Marlboro, Bennettsville; secretary and treasurer, Mr. Giles L. Wilson, State Bank Examiner, Spartanburg. The executive committee is composed of Mr. John M. Kinard, chairman, president Commercial Bank, Newberry; Mr. Wilson G. Harvey, president Enterprise Bank, Charleston; Mr. C. J. Shannon, Jr., president First National Bank, Camden; Mr. Emslie Nicholson, president Nicholson Bank and Trust Company, Union; Mr. A. E. Padgett, president Farmers' Bank, Edgefield, the president and secretary ex-officio. The legislative committee: Mr. D. A. Spivey, chairman, vice president Bank of Conway, Conway; Mr. A. G. Brice, president Commercial Bank, Chester; Mr. W. G. Childs, president Bank of Columbia, Columbia; H. C. Folk, president People's Bank, Bamberg; Mr. J. A. Banks, president Home Bank, St. Matthews. Attorney, A. M. Lee, of Smythe, and Lee & Frost, of Charleston. Member executive council, American Bankers' Association, E. W. Robertson, president National Loan & Exchange Bank, Columbia.

Both the Western Union and the Postal telegraph companies have courteously extended the free use of their lines to properly identified members for telegrams of a social nature from Wilmington during the convention.

President J. A. Taylor has received from Secretary Geo. L. Wilson, of the Association, a very cordial invitation for all members of the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce to attend the sessions of the Association and it is hoped that as many of them as can do so will be present.

RESIDENCE BURGLARIZED

Robbers Loot Home on Church Street and Secure $16.80 in Cash and Two Rings—Suspects Arrested.

There was an abundance of excitement on corner of Front and Princess streets about 8 o'clock last night, occasioned by the arrest by Patrolman M. A. Jones of two negroes, William Galloway and John Gilmore, suspected of having entered the residence at 201 Church street, occupied by Mr. M. B. Kemp and Mr. D. T. Chasen, between 3 and 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and stealing $16.80 in money belonging to Mr. Chasen and two rings, one a diamond, from Mrs. Kemp.

While waiting for the arrival of the patrol wagon quite a large crowd assembled around the officer and the prisoners and it became necessary in order to avoid a jam to meet the wagon further up Princess street. The prisoners were turned over to Acting Sergeant E. R. Chadwick, who conducted them to the city calaboose, where they were searched by the officer in charge of them and Assistant Chief Burnett, but none of the stolen articles was found. Both negroes stoutly denied any knowledge of the robbery, stating to Mr. Chasen that they were at the baseball game at the time it was said the house was entered. A sister of Gilmore stated to officers that her brother was with her and another negro woman all the afternoon.

The families of Mr. Kemp, who is assistant engineer in charge of the United States dredge, Jacksonville, and Mr. Chasen, assistant manager of the local branch of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, lives in the same house, the former occupying the second story and the latter the first. Both Mr. Kemp and Mr. Chasen were away from home and Mrs. Kemp and Mrs. Chasen were on the front porch. They had not been there more than 30 minutes, they think when the laundry wagon arrived with some laundry for Mrs. Chasen, who went to her room to get the money for it. It was then that she discovered the robbery. Mrs. Chasen informed Mrs. Kemp of the loss of her money and the two then made a search of the house, finding that during their brief stay on the porch the residence was entered and every trunk ransacked, and in addition to the loss of the money two rings belonging to Mrs. Kemp had been taken. The rogues also helped themselves to a cake which was on Mrs. Kemp's dining room table. It was thought impossible for one person to make such a complete exploration of the house in so short a time.

Suspicion at once pointed to the negroes who were arrested last night as both had been employed about the house during the past few days, having helped Mr. Kemp to move his household furniture. Galloway had worked there off and on for a month or more, being employed by the family which occupied the second floor prior to Mr. Kemp's moving in. Entrance was effected by a stairway at the rear of the house and Messrs. Kemp and Chasen say that it must have been gained by persons familiar with the house, otherwise they would not have known how to have gotten in unnoticed.

A watch with the monogram of one of the ladies on it was passed over by the robbers as was also a check, evidencing the fact that robbers were possessed of a great amount of sense.

Mr. Chasen went home last night about 6 o'clock. A few minutes after he was told of the robbery Galloway and Gilmore passed the house. He followed them down town and informed Patrolman Jones, who had no trouble in nabbing both of them.

A search warrant was assued and Acting Sergeant Chadwick went to 608 South Tenth street and searched every nook and corner of the house in which the two negroes live, but they found no trace of the stolen articles. After a more thorough investigation the police are inclined to the theory that the robbery was committed by Galloway with probably an accomplice but not Gilmore. Gilmore is being held, however, for further developments.

Use of Team Sundays Desired.

A. J. Willis, H. S. P., who is doing a Bible and mission work in this city, announces that he desires that some one furnish him a horse and buggy on Sundays from 9 A. M. to 7 P. M. in order that he may branch out by carrying his good work to the country surrounding Wilmington. He says that he has no income from which to pay the hire of a team, which will be necessary for him to have if he reaches the poorer class of people in the surrounding country. He would appreciate it if any one who is interested in the spread of the Gospel and has a team would communicate with him at 14 Dock street by postal card.

THREE NEW MAIL CARRIERS

Through Efforts of Postmaster T. E. Wallace Wilmington Mail Facilities Are Increased—One for the Beach Route.

Through the persistent efforts of Postmaster T. E. Wallace the Postoffice Department has assigned three additional mail carriers to the city of Wilmington, one of which will do regular service on Wrightsville Beach during the Summer months, at the close of which he will return to a route in the city.

The new carriers are Mr. C. W. Hollowbush, who is assigned to the beach, and Messrs. J. A. Fettel and E. R. Hall. The beach carrier will make two trips a day, one in the morning and the other in the afternoon. The service at the beach heretofore has been performed by an auxiliary carrier employed only during the Summer season.

The addition to the force of carriers has been granted for the purpose of relieving sections of the city that, in consequence of the increased mail, have taxed the carriers to such an extent as to cause them to frequently return mail to the office for want of time to complete their respective deliveries. It will be of information to some to know that letter carriers are not permitted to work more than eight hours a day and to exceed that time subjects them to penalties, as a report has to be made to the department in each instance.

The increased facilities will enable the addition of new territory to that already served. It is on the assurance of Postmaster Wallace that the requirements of the department from the people so served will be complied with that the men are granted. The requirements consist of the improvement of the streets and the lettering of the same and the numbering of the houses. The numbering of the houses has not been given sufficient attention in either the outlying districts or in the more thickly settled parts of the city, says Postmaster Wallace. It is hoped that the assurances given by the postmaster for the purpose of obtaining this additional service, so beneficial to those who are recipients of it, will be complied with in every respect by those served.

LODGE OF "PERFECTION."

This Branch of Masonry to be Represented in Wilmington.

A lodge of "Perfection," which is from the fourth to the 14th degrees of Masonry, will be instituted in this city Friday, July 2nd, by Mr. Walter S. Liddell, of Charlotte, a 33rd degree Mason, who will be assisted by a team from the Queen City. He will also be accompanied by the regularly organized male choir under the personal direction of Prof. Keesler, of Charlotte.

Quite a number of the local Masons have signed the charter list and others who desire to join as charter members may receive full information relative thereto by applying to the deputy, Mr. James C. Munds, at the Masonic Temple, before the 20th of June, when the charter list will be closed.

As stated the lodge of "Perfection" consists of the degrees from the fourth to the 14th; Chapter—Knights of St. Croix, degrees 15th to 18th; Council—Knights of Kadosh, degrees from 19th to 30th; Consistory—Degrees from 31st to 32nd.

The Sabine Ran Ashore.

The Clyde Liner Sabine went ashore yesterday afternoon while proceeding down the river at Campbell's Island, near Orton. Capt. Hale requested aid from the revenue cutter Seminole, which was returning from a cruise and a line was sent out but the vessel floated without assistance. She is bound to New York.

Kicks at Goldsboro.

Goldsboro, N. C., June 12.—Brilliant fielding and base running on the part of the visitors gave them the third game of the series here today by the close score of 1 to 0. But for the kicking over Umpire McLaughlin's decisions the game would have been exceedingly interesting. In the ninth after Deviney had given Dobson four strikes he singled to centre; Clemmons next up beat his third bunt out at first and Dobson advanced to second. Streaser bunted down third base line, the ball rolling a little over the line on foul ground where it stopped. Fulton thinking that the umpire would see it refused to touch it, but the Umps decided to call it "fair" and while he was deciding Dobson raced by for the only score. Deviney pitched a beautiful game and easily deserved a shut-out, allowing only three clean hits. Lohr was fined $10 and sent out of the park for kicking in the fourth and Galvin was fined $5 in the sixth. Score:

HEALTHY HOWLS."

Wasn't it Squally, though?

Rocky Mount just played ball; that's all!

That Reddy James is a Swatsmith proper.

If we could only mend the errors of our ways.

Guerrant will be a welcome addition at short.

Patton's yawn ball moves like a paid mourner.

Smith was Rip-VanWingling when that grass-cutter passed his station.

Three men churned the air on Patton's fadeaway flyers in the third.

This was His Umps' day off—and Wilmington wasn't the worst sufferer.

Please, Oh Please, send Daddy McLaughlin back here to talk balls and strikes.

Accorsini dropped an easy one when a Railroader was caught red-handed straying off the initial sack.

It isn't everybody that has the proper power of discernment—so why blame the Umpire! (Uh; Did you say sarcasm?)

Mr. Waymack, Rocky Mount's speed peddler, was there with the goods. His wind-up would put to shame the most assuming pretzel.

With Jayes on 2nd and Conn on 1st, and two down, Rube Howard was trotted in during our half of the 9th to start something, but Reuben reneged.

Conn is a worker behind the bat; and very few Rocky Mounters tried to pilfer once they'd seen him whip 'em down to second. He is also a track performer on the bases.

The Railroaders wheeled a few bingles out of Patton's delivery during the opening innings; but he aided and abetted the making of their runs with a runaway throw over first.

It adds zest and ginger to the contest when the various players exploit their conversational abilities in informing the slab artist he's stumps, the Man of the Hour, etc. Mr. Conn tells them how he feels about it, and we're glad to see same.

NEW CAROLINA BEACH BOAT.

Will Stop at Pier Every Morning Except Sunday—Wilmington Today.

It is announced that an additional boat will be put on between Carolina Beach and Wilmington, steamer South port leaving Carolina Beach pier at 7:15 o'clock every morning except Sunday and arriving here at 8:30 o'clock. The additional boat will greatly facilitate the handling of passengers from Carolina Beach and will prove a great convenience to the many who are wont to visit that popular resort in the Summer. The steamer Wilmington will touch at Fort Caswell on both of its trips down the river today. The boat leaves here at 9:15 A. M. and 2:30 P. M. The boat goes as far as Fort Caswell on account of the maneuvers in progress there in order that any who desire to can spend the day at that pleasant place.

COUNTY BOARD OF EDUCATION.

Last Meeting of the Present Body. Only Routine Matters.

The last regular meeting of the present County Board of Education will be held at the Court House Monday morning at 11 o'clock. There is no special business to claim the attention of the board and the time will be taken up with routine matters. The board as now constituted is composed of Geo. Rountree, Esq., Messrs. W. H. Sprunt and Donald MacRae. The new board will be composed of Messrs. W. H. Sprunt, James H. Chadbourn and John H. Hanby.

The July meeting, at which time the new board will be organized, will be one of the most important of the year as school committeemen will be elected and the apportionment of the school fund will be made.

At the Bijou Tomorrow.

The Bijou has a very attractive programme to offer its patrons tomorrow. The titles of the pictures are "Miss Faust" and "Alphonse Gets in Wrong." The former is a very amusinb satire on the story of Faust and must be seen to be appreciated. In the second picture is shown the many amusing situations of an inebriated man.

IN HONOR OF BRIDE-ELECT.

Miss Beery Entertains Complimentary to Miss Bessie Brady.

Miss Beulah Beery entertained at her home, 406 Church street, last night from 8:30 to 11 o'clock at a prenuptial event in honor of Miss Bessie Brady, who this afternoon at 6 o'clock becomes the bride of Mr. Clair Fisher, of West Virginia. Those present were: Misses Bessie Brady, Elmira Pridgen, Berta Brady, Ella Brady, Edith Brady and Messrs. Clair Fisher, Ralph Eakins, Gordon Brittain, J. R. Nance, Leslie Ellis, Rudolph Brady and Mr. Edwards.

In cutting the wedding cake the thimble fell to Miss Ella Brady. The color scheme throughout was pink and white. Small boxes of cake, on which were written the names of Fisher-Brady, and the date, were given as souvenirs of the delightful occasion.

PALMETTO COTTON MEN

Elected Officers For Ensuing Year. Concluding Session.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Spartanburg, S. C., June 12.—The South Carolina Cotton Manufacturers' Association re-elected the following officers for the ensuing year before adjourning their annual meeting at Glenn Springs today:

President A. E. Smith, of Greenville; Vice President V. M. Montgomery, of Spartanburg; Treasurer J. A. Brock, of Anderson; Secretary Thomas I. Charles, of Greenville. Executive Committee, J. M. Geer, of Easley; W. P. Ruff, of Lexington, J. David Woodside, of Greenville; E. Nicholson, of Union; S. C. Twitty, of Hartsville, and A. F. McKissick, of Greenwood.

Among the interesting items in the report of President Smith was one showing that the Cotton Manufacturers' Association had agreed to contribute to George Washington University at Washington $200, per annum for five years, this money to be used in the training school for consuls for improving the consular service.

TWO MORE BIG BATTLESHIPS

Plans Approved For Two Vessels of 20,000 Tons Each.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Washington, June 12,—Plans for the new two battleships the Arkansas and Wyoming, bids for which are said to be invited, were practically approved at a meeting today of the general board of the navy, which was attended also by Secretary Meyer and Assistant Secretary Winthrop. These vessels, of the latest approved type, are to be of 200,000 tons or over and of the Delaware class. It is hoped to get out the proposals inviting bids for the construction of the ships and to open them by the middle of the summer.

The Marvel of the Age!

Whiskey, Opium, Cigarette and Tobacco Habits
Cured in Seven Days. The New

"Cactina Treatment"

The Greatest Discovery of the Age for Unfortunate Men and Women

☞ The Following Proposition Knocks Out All Fakirs:

The "Cactina Treatment" is one that has been known for some years, but was never advertised until every test had been made on all narcotic and alcoholic cases. "Cactina Treatment" having been thoroughly and scientifically tested in many of the worst cases, both whiskey and opium or drug addiction, otherwise "alcoholic" and "narcotic" habits. The Bennettsville Sanitarium Co. has such confidence in this wonderful treatment that they have put their capital in it and have incorporated it under the laws of South Carolina. The Sanitarium Co. makes the following heretofore unheard of proposition:—They take any case of alcoholism or whiskey habit, or any case of morphine or other narcotic drug habit, cure them perfectly, and allow patients one month if they desire, before they pay for their cure. And if they do not CURE THEM, this Company contracts to CHARGE NOTHING and pay hotel bill and railroad fare both ways.

On account of so great a demand for a HOME CURE FOR CIGARETTE AND TOBACCO, this Company has secured the State agencies for North and South Carolina, Georgia and Florida, for the Dr. J. S. Hill Celebrated "Perfect Cure" for cigarette and tobacco habit. This remedy is sold under the strictest guarantee, an affidavit being sent with each treatment.

"Cactina" Treatment is a new discovery, but as soon as its merits are known, will take the place of all other treatments the world over, as it is the only real cure for alcoholic and drug habits on earth. The only one that will cure all such cases as surely as water will put out fire.

The Price for All Smoking Habits $10. Chewing and Snuff Dipping $5.
Money Must Accompany the Order for Home Treatment.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE

—Lincolnton, June 11.—Material is being placed on the site for building the Saxony Spinning Company's new mill one mile from the court house on the Seaboard Air Line Railroad. Contractor W. M. Motz will begin work on it in a few days.

—Kings Mountain Herald: Work was begun this week on the new cotton mill for Bessemer City, which is to be added to the plant of the C. J. Huss & Co. This company which has heretofore been weaving only, will add a spinning and a carding department in order to supply their looms.

—Pender Chronicle: The Rev. W. S. Key shipped some choice peaches grown on Din plantation, near Croom's bridge, to Boston, Mass., last week. He makes a second shipment the present week. Mr. Key reports the various new kinds of vegetables he is growing experimentally for the Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., as being a gratifying success.

—Laurinburg Exchange: Mr. J. T. John, Jr., of John Station, has just given the Laurinburg Machine Company a contract for the installation of an electric lighting plant at his place which will furnish lights for his dwelling, store, gin, warehouse, etc. The plant will be propelled by a gasoline engine, and the current can be quickly and economically obtained in the day time should it be needed.

—Winston Sentinel: A resident of Yadkin county reports that the loss occasioned by the recent overflow of the Yadkin river was greater than lats year. The water did not rise as high this year by a foot, but the corn was higher this year and the water settled in the bud, which will cause a total loss of corn crops in many instances. The corn was small last year and came through the flood fairly well.

—Washington, June 11.—At a recent meeting of the Chamber of Commerce of this city it was reported that strong influence was being brought to bear on the directors of the Hyde County and Mattamuskeet Railroad to carry the road no further than the town of Belhaven. A committee was appointed by the Chamber to appear before the directors and to urge upon them the desirability of extending this road on from Belhaven to this city.

—Lincolnton, June 11—Deputy Sheriffs Baxter and Heavner brought in a 20-gallon still which they captured on Thursday night at the headwaters of Indian Creek, 10 miles west of Lincolnton. The still was made after the pattern of a modern copper still, but was made of galvanized iron. The still, cap and worm were found in a closet upstairs in a dwelling house, while beer and other paraphernalia were found in a smoke house, where the whiskey was made. The place was deserted and no arrests were made.

—Lenoir Topic: At the annual meeting of the Watauga Railroad Company yesterday, the company was reorganized by the election of Mr. W. J. Gradin, president, and W. W. Beatty, secretary and treasurer. It was decided to move the office of the company to Lenoir. This company is considering the proposition to build a railroad from Warrior on the Caldwell & Northern to Boone, and it is gratifying to note that the prospects seem bright now for the road.

—Rocky Mount, June 1.—Thoroughly gratified was the committee from Castalit and the meeting held in the mayor's office last night evidenced the fact that it will take a serious drawback to defeat the measure now under way for the securing of a railway from this city to Castalia in Nash county. The offer of the township and town of Castalia was made public and some of the economic as well as social advantages were discussed thoroughly. Rocky Mount will lend all possible aid to the enterprise.

—Stanly Enterprise: Two new cotton mills will be built in Albemarle to form departments of the Wiscassett and Efird Mills. The former building will be 300x100 feet, and 20,000 spindles will be placed therein. It is to be located just north of the present building. This mill now has 50,000 spindles, and its capital stock is $500,000. The addition will probably represent $250,000, and an increased pay roll annually of $150,000 or more. The Efird Mill will erect a two-story building 350x100 feet, with a basement 300x50 feet, on east side of the railroad, and opposite the offices of the present mill.

—Red Springs Citizen: There has been something doing in the Red Springs cotton market lately. Last week Mr. A. T. McCallum disposed of what he had on hand and this week Mr. A. B. Pearsall sold—the number of bales in both lots amounting to 325, all over 500 pounds to the bale and bringing 11 cents per pound. There were other sales reported, but these two were the largest individual transactions. Many of the mills are short of cotton, having taken chances and waited for the rise or fall of the market. Now they must have it—so those who held out against them are receiving the benefits of the advance.

—Pender Chronicle: The traveling public over the Bannerman Bridge road should tip their hats and thank Mr. A. O. Thigpen for ditching White Stocking. This has always been a bad place in the road but it is now dry and in good condition. Mr. Alex Rowe has shown his public spirit and has done the traveling public a great service in constructing one-half mile of sand clay road near Smith's Bridge, and for particularly building a turnpike from Smith's Bridge to Burgaw Creek. He intends to bring it on to Burgaw straightening the road so as to make it a half mile shorter. If our people throughout the county would only catch the spirit of Messrs. Rowe and Thigpen, Pender would be the banner county in the State in good roads.

MR. A. J. McKINNON.

Man of Large Interests and an Enterprising Citizen.

The suggestion having been made that Mr. A. J. McKinnon, of Maxton, might be a candidate for Congress in the Sixth district, the Maxton Scottish Chief says:

"Major A. J. McKinnon is no ordinary man, his phenomenal success in the local business world has not been the result of accident and propitious circumstances as many of us where he was reared were at one time inclined to conclude. He has been a pioneer for this locality in several business directions, notably such in the melon and trucking line which is constantly advancing toward large proportions and spreading over a large area of Robeson and Scotland counties, and bringing within our grasp the Summer dollar which before was in hiding, awaiting the Fall when King Cotton mounts his throne. Not many years ago Major McKinnon planted a few acres of cantaloupes on some land in the suburbs of Maxton, and the net response was an increase of his bank account to the amount of $2,700. This set the ball rolling and the result is that this section no longer lives on liens from the first of January until October. At tha ttime we had seen the Major control the sale of horses and mules, the livery and feed stable business and the cotton buying of this place and section. It seemed to be all in a haphazard way that he did business never losing a fishing trip or any other fun; and we caled him "lucky," and let it go at that. But when he opened up a new field of endeavor for the farmer we concluded it was time to look deeper for the cause. We acordingly had a little chat with him without his discovering that we were using the occasion to uncover his secret of success, and of which we are sure he is still ignorant. We came away from that interview with the knowledge that he did not do things without thought, and the secret lay in the fact that he had gathered together much information and digested it before entering upon any new enterprise; then his executive ability revealed itself in the success that followed.

"Here is a man in the prime of life, at the haed of many large enterprises."

MILLIONS OF CROSS-TIES

Interesting Statistics Prepared by Census Bureau and Forestry Service. The Woods Best Adapted. Figures.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Washington, June 12.—During the year 1908, the steam and electric railroads of the United States purchased more than 112,000,000 cross-ties, costing, at the point of purchase, over $56,000,000, an average of fifty cents per tie, according to statistics just made public by the Bureau of the Census in co-operation with the United States Forest Service.

This was some 40,000,000 ties less than the quantity purchased in 1907, when the total was approximately 153,700,000, the highest ever recorded. The decreased purchases in 1908 were, of course, chiefly due to the business depression which affected every line of industry. This forced most of the roads to purchase only the ties which were absolutely essential for renewals, and heavily cut down the purchase for new track. In 1908 only 7,431,000 cross-ties were reported as purchased for new track as against 23,557,000 in 1907. Of the total number of ties purchased for all purposes, the steam roads took approximately 94 per cent., leaving about six per cent. for the electric roads.

It is very interesting to note the wide range of woods used for cross-ties. The preliminary report by the Census Bureau lists separately 15 classes or species. Of these the oaks are now and have always been by far the most important. The oak ties amounted to more than 48,000,000 or 43 per cent. of the total quantity purchased. Next to these ranked the Southern yellow pines, with 21,500,000, or 19 per cent. of the total. It will be seen that the oaks and Southern pines combined furnished nearly three-fourths of all the ties bought by the railroad companies last year. Cedar and chestnut supplied more than 8,000,000 ties each, and Douglas fir nearly as much. About 4,000,000 tamarack ties were purchased, nearly 3,500,000 cypress ties, and, in round numbers, 3,000,000 each of Western pine and hemlock. Redwood, white pine, lodgepole pine, gum, beech, spruce, and several other woods were used in smaller quantities.

While the oaks, and particularly the white oaks have always been the preferred woods for cross-ties and still form a large proportion of the total, the increasing prices which the roads have had to pay for satisfactory oak ties are forcing them to look more and more for substitutes. This accounts in part for the great variety of woods reported. White oak, untreated, makes a tie which gives excellent service for many years, but it has been found possible to take woods which naturally are not durable, give them a treatment with either creosote or zinc chloride, which will prevent decay, and thus get much longer service from them than can be secured from untreated oak ties. Among the woods which have been most largely treated so far are the yellow pines, particularly loblolly pine, Douglas fir, Western pine, and lodgepole pine.

This year's statistics adds to the list two kinds of cross-ties which previously had not been reported in sufficient quantity to justify listing them separately. These are gum and beech. The purchasers of gum ties in 1908 exceeded 260,000, while but slightly more than 15,000 of them were reported in the previous year. Of beech ties, the purchases in 1908 amounted to nearly 193,000, against but little more than 51,000 in 1907. These are woods which are distinctly not suitable for cross-ties unless they are given preservative treatment. Their increased use, therefore, is one of the many results of the progress of wood preservation in the United States. For many years beech has been one of the principal cross-tie woods in Europe, where its value when given chemical treatment was long ago recognized. It is not uncommon for European roads to secure from 20 to 30 years' service from beech cross-ties. Untreated they would not last long enough to warrant their use at all.

Baltimore, June 10.—Following the announcement that it was expected to get the contract for three large steamers for the American-Hawaiian Steamship Company, a river boat for the Maryland, Delaware and Virginia Railway Company, and the breaking of ground Tuesday for the new $1,000,000 open hearth steel plant, the news that the old wage scale which was in effect before April 1, when a 10 per cent. cut was made, would be restored July 1 was received with elation by the several thousand employes of the Maryland Steel Company at Sparrows Point. After a period of depression of a year and a half, during which the regular rate of wages and salaries had been paid, and in view of the fact that during that time the works had produced only about 50 per cent. of its regular product and the prospect for new business was not bright, the rate was cut 10 per cent., effective April 1, and has stood until this time. The new rate will affect all departments and all classes of labor, from the draftsmen, engineers, skilled mechanics and clerical men down to the laborers. Tuesday the mill made the highest tonnage for over a year, producing 1,204 tons of rails for the Seaboard Air Line. The mill has produced as much as 1,700 tons in a single day, which stands as a record. The taking of the contracts for the new boats and the building of the open hearth will give work to hundreds of people in the different lines of trade. The engines for the boats will call for patternmakers, foundrymen and machinists, while later on there will be a demand for joiners and carpenters and laboring work will no doubt be plentiful.

RAIL AND WATER

Roanoke, Va., June 10.—President L. B. Davis of the Roanoke Retail Merchants' Association today received a letter from J. W. Goode, president of the Carolina and Norfolk Railroad Company, at New York, in which he states that active construction of about 500 miles of the line will be engaged in during the present Summer, embracing the road from the Mississippi river as far as the western boundary of Virginia, and that it is possible construction will be carried on in this state. The road is to run from Cairo, Ills., to Norfolk, and will traverse country a part of the way not now touched by railroads.

Commander A. G. Winterhalter, U. S. N., in charge of the Hydrographic Office at Washington, has instructed Lieutenant Commander McMechan, U. S. N., in charge of the branch office at Norfolk, to collect data pertaining to spontaneous combustion among the cargoes of vessels, especially cotton, at sea. An extensive investigation of this subject is to be made by the Hydrographic Office, and the Norfolk office has been designated as headquarters for all such data emanating from the territory south of that city. Masters of vessels and others interested are requested to co-operate with the officials of the Hydrographic Office in collecting the desired information.

The eighteenth annual convention of the Freight Claim Agents' Association of the United States will convene at Old Point June 16th, 17th and 18th. The committee on arrangement has just completed the programme which contemplates an elaborate assemblage with several pleasing attractions, among them a trip given by the New York, Philadelphia and Norfolk Railway on the steamer Haryland. A complimentary vaudeville performance will be given at Ocean View the evening of June 17th. The programme quotes a letter from the Secretary of the Navy saying that the Atlantic battleship fleet will assemble in Hampton Roads about June 17th, with the probability that some of the vessels will begin to arrive on the sixteenth.

Cleveland, Ohio, June 10.—The Iron Trade Review today says: "Just one year ago the price-maintenance policy which had been adhered to since the panic of October, 1907, was abandoned, and price reductions of from $2 to $4 a ton on nearly all finished products were announced. The expectation that business would soon revive was not realized, and not until prices had declined from $8 to $10, following the declaration of the open market last February, did buying really become active. In the past three months the recovery has been rapid, and the prospects are most encouraging. The past week has added new evidences of the return of genuine prosperity. One of the most significant features at present is the insistence of many buyers, especially the railroads, on prompt delivery. One of the largest independent interests reports that it now has more orders on its books than ever before in its history."

A LABOR OF LOVE.

Veteran Stone Cutter to Restore Name of Jefferson Davis.

(The Stonecutters' Journal.)

James B. Morne, native son of Mississippi, stonecutter by trade, loyal to the lost cause, and as stout of heart as he is strong of arm, is doing a labor of love at Cabin John Bridge, Washington, D. C., and incidentally making for James B. Morne, of Moss Point, Miss., a little niche in the hall of fame throughout the civilized world.

For several hours each week day Mr. Morne, mallet and chisel in hand, can be seen perched high up on the longest stone arch bridge in the world, merrily chipping away with but one end in view, that of restoring the name of Jefferson Davis to its rightful place in the historic tablet on this famous span.

Mr., or rather Brother Morne is an old time stonecutter, having followed his craft practically all over the world and finally settled down in his native State, where he became a rich planter. When a proposition to replace the name of Jeff Davis, the ex-President of the Southern Confederacy, was made public, Morne's patriotic spirit responded, and he determined to do the work no matter who obtained the contract. In this he was successful, and serenely surveys what he considers the crowning episode of his career.

A pleasant well-informed man is Brother Morne, and proudly boasts of always having carried a union card in his pocket throughout his eventful life.

To have always been a loyal member of the G. U. and to have restored the name of his hero in the lost cause on the bridge of fame, is sufficient to keep any man in good humor, so Bro. Morne is singing as he chisels and chisels.

Sitting in the general office one day, for he only works when the spirit moves him, he fell into reminiscent mood and descanted entertainingly upon the old days, the old friends, and the old methods of his youth. He told of the struggle for the eight-hour day in which he bore a prominent part, and of the days when it was almost a crime to belong to a union or labor organization. He grew eloquent in praise of those pioneers of unionism who blazed the way for the benefits we enjoy today. He traced the history of our organization from the old Guilds of Europe to its establishments in America, and predicted its continued success under wise and conservative management. Names of old cronies and comrades were called, most of whom are now on the "Great Union Temple." And Brother Morne knew them all and loved them. It was an inspiration to hear the old hero talk. "A sermon in stone!"

THE BARRIER

By Rex Beach

Copyright, 1908, by Harper & Brothers

SYNOPSIS.

CHAPTER I—John Gale is a trader at Flambeau, a rough outpost of civilization in Alaska. His daughter Necia is a beautiful young girl, generally believed to be a half breed, daughter of Gale and the Indian squaw Alluna, with whom he lives. Some hidden burden weighs continually on the trader's mind, and he views with apprehension the arrival of a squad of soldiers at Flambeau. "That means the law," he says uneasily to Necia, who has become acquainted with and admired by Lieutenant Burrell, commander of the soldiers. II—It becomes known that Napoleon Roret, an honest, faithful French Canadian employed by Gale, is deeply in love with Necia. One Runnion, a dissolute gambler and "bad man," arrives at Flambeau by steamer and in a fight with Burrell is worsted and forced to leave the town. On the departing steamer's deck he menacingly says, "I will return to take a hand in the game." III—Doret gives Necia a handsome silk gown brought by him from Dawson City for her. Arrayed in this, she meets Lieutenant Burrell, who falls madly in love with her, and he wonders if her blood is really tainted. Gale re-asserts that she is the illegitimate daughter of himself and the squaw. IV.—Runnion returns with Ben Stark, a professional gambler and man killer with plenty of money. Stark builds a saloon and dance hall at Flambeau. "No Creek" Lee discovers gold in a valley some miles distant, and Necia persuades Burrell to take her there and locate a claim for her, their trip requiring a day and a night in the forest. V, VI and VII—Gale, Lee, Runnion and Stark have gone together to the site of Lee's discovery to locate claims. They are met by Necia and Burrell, and a bitter quarrel ensues. Runnion and Stark conspire to rob Necia of her claims. Runnion wants the girl, and Stark finds that Necia has a strange, unexplainable fascination for him. His baby daughter had been stolen years before. Burrell becomes the declared enemy of both Stark and Runnion. A gun held by Gale is discharged, the bullet accidentally, he claims, narrowly missing Stark. VIII—Gale knows Stark to be an old enemy of his father and Necia, and Alluna, his squaw, says: "Kill Stark. Take the knife of my father. To kill is the law." IX, X, XI, XII and XIII—Necia, believing herself a half-breed, fears she cannot marry Burrell, whom she loves, as she learns that her tainted blood will bar her from meeting the people he naturally associates with, and she overhears Burrell say he may not marry her after all. Stark persuades her to leave Flambeau after he discovers her to be his daughter.

CHAPTER XIII.

STARK TAKES A HAND IN THE GAME.

THE old man greeted the lieutenant affably, but as his glance fell on his daughter he stopped stock still on the threshold.

"I told you never to wear that dress again," he said in a dry, harsh voice.

The girl made no answer, for her heart was breaking, but turned and went into her room. Burrell had an irresistible desire to tell Gale that he wanted his daughter for his wife. It would be an unwonted pleasure to startle this iron gray old man and the shawled and shambling mummy of red, with the unwinking eyes that always reminded him of two oxheart cherries, but he had given Necia his promise. So he descended to the exchange of ordinary topics and inquired for the news of the creek.

"Necia's ground is getting better every hour," the trader said. "Yesterday they found a sixty dollar pan."

"Have you struck pay on yours?"

"No; Poleon and I seem to hold bad hands. Some of his laymen are quitting work. They've cross cut in half a dozen places and can't find a color."

Gale went to Necia's door and called her, but when she appeared he was unprepared for the tragic face with which she greeted him.

"Daughter," he said, "don't feel bad over what I said. I didn't mean to be cross with you, but—I don't like that dress."

"Were you cross with me, daddy?" she said dully. "I didn't hear. What did you say?"

He looked at her in amazement. "Necia, little girl, what is the trouble?"

She was staring past him, and her fingers were fumbling helplessly with the lace of her gown, but she began to show signs of collapse.

"I sent him away—I—gave him up, when he wanted me—wanted me— Oh, daddy, he wants to marry me—and I sent him away!"

"He asked you to marry him in—in—in spite of who you are and what I am?"

"Yes; he is ready to give up his ambition, his army, his future, his family, everything, for me—to sacrifice it all, and so, of course, I couldn't let him." She spoke simply, as if her father would surely understand and approve her action, while in her voice was a note of inevitable resignation. "You see, I never understood what my blood would mean to him until tonight. I've been selfish and thoughtless, I guess. I just wanted him, and wanted him to take me, but now that he is mine I love him more than I thought. He is so dear to me that I can't drag him down—I can't—I can't!" She went to the open door and stood leaning against the casing, facing the cool outer darkness, her face hidden from them, her form sagging wearily, as if the struggle had sapped her whole strength.

Alluna crept to the trader and looked up at him eagerly, whispering:

"This will end in a little while, John. She is young. She can go back to the mission tomorrow. She will soon forget."

"Forget! Do you think she can forget?"

"Any woman can forget. Only men remember."

"It is the red blood in you—lying. You know you lie."

"It is to save your life," she said.

"I know, but it's no use." To Necia he said, "You needn't worry, little daughter." But her ears were deaf. "You needn't give him up, I say. This will end all right."

Seeing that she gave no sign of heeding, he stepped closer and swung her about till she faced him.

"Can't you trust me this one time? You always have before, Necia. I say he'll marry you, and it will come out right."

She raised her hopeless eyes and strove gamely to meet him, then, failing, broke away and turned back to the door. "I knew you couldn't understand. I—I—O God, I love him so!" With a cry like that of a wounded animal she fled out into the night, where she could give vent to her anguish unseen, for she had never wept before her father, but always crept away and hid herself until her grief was spent. Gale would have started after her, but Alluna dragged him back fiercely.

"No, no! It means your life, John. Let the secret die, and she will forget. She is so young. Time will cure her. Time cures everything. Don't tell her, don't tell any one, and, above all, don't tell that soldier. He would not believe, nor would she. Even I have doubted."

"You?"

"Yes, John. And, if I don't believe, what is a stranger to say? No man knowing you would believe the tale without proof. Suppose she doubted. Have you ever thought of that? Would you not rather have her die still loving you than live and disbelieve?"

"Yes, yes! Of course I—I've thought of that, but— Woman, you're worse than a rattlesnake!"

"Even if he knew, he might not marry her. You at least are clean, and that other man was a devil. A brave man's life is too great a price to pay for a grief that will die in a year." Alluna was speaking swiftly in her own language, her body tense, her face ablaze, and no man seeing her could ever again have called her people stolid.

"You think time will cure a love like that?" he said.

"Yes, yes!"

"That's all you know about it. Time may act that way perhaps in cities and such places, but out in the hills it is different. When you've got the breath of the forest in you, I say it is different. Time! Why, I've lived fifteen years in the open with a living memory. Every night I've dreamed it over; every day I've lived it through. In every campfire I see a face, and every wind from the south brings a voice to me. Every stormy night a girl with eyes like Necia's calls to me, and I have to follow. Every patch of moonlight shows her smiling at me, just beyond, just in the shadow's edge. Love! Time! Why, Alluna, love is the only thing in the world that never dies, and time only makes it the more enduring."

He took up the white slouch hat he had thrown down when he came in and stepped to the door.

"Where are you going?" inquired the squaw fearfully.

"To the barracks to give myself up!"

She flung herself at him, with a great cry, and seized him about the waist.

"You never loved me, John, but I have been a good woman to you, although I knew you were always thinking of her—and had no thought of me. I have loved this girl because you loved her. I have hated your enemies because you hated them, and now I remember, while you forget."

"Forget! What do you mean?"

"Stark!"

The man paused. "I did almost forget him—and after fifteen years!"

"Let us kill him tonight; then we will go to the soldier together, side by side. I am your woman. Necia will look after the little ones.

Gale stared at her, and as he gazed the red pigment underneath her skin, the straight hanging, manelike hair, the gaudy shawl she never went without, the shapeless, skin shod feet, the slovenly, ill fitting garb of a miscast woman vanished, and he saw her as she was on a day long past, a slim, shy, silent creature, with great, watchful, trusting eyes and a soul unspoiled. No woman had ever been so loyal, so uncomplaining. He had robbed her of her people and her gods. He had shifted hither and yon at the call of his uncertain fortune or at a sign of that lurking fear that always dogged him, and she had never left his side, never questioned, never doubted, but always served him like a slave, without asking for a part in that other love, without sharing in the caresses he had consecrated to a woman she had never seen.

"By heaven, you're game, Alluna, but there's a limit even to what I can take from you," he said at last. "I don't ever seem to have noticed it before, but there is. No. I've got to do this thing alone tonight, all of it, for you have no place in it, and I can't let the little girl go on like this. The sooner that soldier knows the better." He leaned down and touched her brown mouth with his grizzled lips. "Thank you, Alluna, for making a man of me when I'd nearly forgotten. Now, you stay here." He knew he could count on her obedience, and so he left her. When he had gone she drew the shawl up over her face and crouched in the doorway, straining her eyes after him through the dark. In time she began to rock and sway and then to chant until the night moaned with the death song of her people.

Necia had no idea whither she went. Her only thought was to flee from her kin, who could not understand; to hide under cover in some solitary place; to let the darkness swallow her up, so that she might give way to her grief and be just a poor weak woman. On she stumbled blindly through the murk like some fair creature of light cast out and banished.

She had not succeeded in thoroughly isolating herself, however, for a man who was steering his course by the sense of feel and the wind's direction heard her and paused. His steps were muffled in the soft footing, so that she had no warning of his presence until he was near enough to distinguish her dimly where she leaned against the log wall of a half completed cabin.

To his question, "What's the trouble here?" she made no answer, but moved away, whereupon he detained her. "There's something wrong. Who are you anyhow?"

"It's only Necia, Mr. Stark," said the girl, at which he advanced and took her by the arm.

"What ails you, child? What in the world are you doing here? Come! It's only a step to my cabin. You must come in and rest awhile, and you'll soon be all right. Why, you'll break your neck in this darkness."

She hung back, but he compelled her to go with him in spite of her unwillingness.

"Now, now," he admonished, with unusual kindliness for him; "you know you're my little friend, and I can't let you go on this way. It's scandalous. I won't stand for it. I like you too much."

He led her inside his cabin and closed the door in the face of the night wind before he struck a light.

"I can't stand to see you cry," he repeated as he adjusted the wick. "Now, as soon as"— He stopped in astonishment, for he had turned to behold instead of the little half breed girl this slender, sorrowful stranger in her amazingly wonderful raiment.

"By"— He checked himself insensibly and stood motionless for a long time.

"I—I—hope you'll excuse me for acting this way," she smiled at him piteously; then, observing his strange features: "Why, what is the matter, Mr. Stark? Are you angry?"

His hawklike face was strained and colorless, his black eyes fierce and eager, his body bent as if to pounce upon a victim. In truth, he was now the predatory animal.

"No," he replied as if her question carried no meaning; then, coming to himself. "No, no; of course not. But you gave me a start. You reminded me of some one. How do you come to be dressed like that? I never knew you had such clothes."

"Poleon brought them from Dawson. They are the first I ever had."

He shook his head in a slow, puzzled fashion.

"You look just like a white girl—I mean—I don't know what I mean." This time he roused himself fully, the effort being more like a shudder.

"So I have always thought," she said, and her eyes filled again.

He shoved forward a big chair with a wolfskin flung over it, into which she sank dejectedly, while he stepped to the shelves beside the Yukon stove and took down a bottle and some glasses.

"I'm not fixed up very well yet," he apologized. "I've been too busy at the saloon to waste time on living quarters. But it's comfortable enough for an old roadster like me."

He was talking to give her leeway and when he had concocted a weak toddy insisted that she must drink it, which she did listlessly, while he rambled on:

"I've noticed a few things in my life, Miss Necia, and one of them is that it often does a heap of good to let out and talk things over—not that a fellow gains any real advantage from disseminating his troubles, but it serves to sort of ease his mind. Folks don't often come to me for advice or sympathy. I don't have it to give. But maybe it will help you to tell me what caused this night marauding expedition of yours." Seeing that she hesitated, he went on: "I suppose there's a lot of reasons why you shouldn't confide in me. I don't like that old man of yours nor any of your friends, but maybe that's why I'm interested. If any of them has upset you I'll take particular pleasure in helping you get even."

"I don't want to get even, and there is nothing to tell," said Necia, "except a girl's troubles, and I can't talk about them." She smiled a painful, crooked smile at him.

"Your old man has been rough to you?"

"No, no! Nothing of that sort."

"Then it's that soldier?" he quizzed shrewdly. "I knew you cared a heap for him. Don't he love you?"

"Yes. That's the trouble, and he wants to marry me. He swears he will in spite of everything."

"See here. I don't quite follow. I thought you liked him. He's the kind most women go daffy over."

"Like him!" The girl trembled with emotion. "Like him! Why—why, I would do anything to make him happy."

"I guess I must be kind of dull," Stark said perplexedly.

"Don't you see? I've got to give him up. I'm a squaw."

"Squaw h—l! With those shoulders!" thing was so startling I—I went off my head. It came sudden, and I thought—it don't matter what I thought, but I'm sorry. I'll apologize, and I'll get you a whole lot of dresses if you like."

AFTER SUFFERING TEN YEARS

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

MARLTON, N.J.—I feel that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has given me new life. I suffered for ten years with serious female troubles, inflammation, ulceration, indigestion, nervousness, and could not sleep. Doctors gave me up, as they said my troubles were chronic. I was in despair, and did not care whether I lived or died, when I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; so I began to take it, and am well again and relieved of all my suffering."—Mrs. GEORGE JORDY, Box 40, Marlton, N.J.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotics or harmful drugs, and to-day holds the record for the largest number of actual cures of female diseases we know of, and thousands of voluntary testimonials are on file in the Pinkham laboratory at Lynn, Mass., from women who have been cured from almost every form of female complaints, inflammation, ulceration, displacements, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, indigestion and nervous prostration. Every suffering woman owes it to herself to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial.

If you would like special advice about your case write a confidential letter to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free, and always helpful.

THE COTTON MARKET.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, June 12.—The cotton market opened steady at a decline of 1 point to an advance of 4 points, the new crop being relatively steady on reports of rain in the central belt, while near positions were influenced by unfavorable accounts of the Manchester situation and fear of July liquidation. Business was quiet during the morning and prices eased off to a net loss of about 1 to 2 points but there seemed to be buying orders on a scale down and the undertone was steady. The market closed firm with prices net 6 to 10 points higher.

Receipts at the ports today 10,169 bales against 6,752 last week and 7,131 last year; for the week 35,000 bales against 51,323 last week and 53,995 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans 543 bales against 1,200 last year and at Houston 554 bales against 1,365 last year.

Spot cotton closed quiet; middling uplands 11:25; middling gulf 11:45; no sales.

Futures opened steady and closed firm.

THE DRY GOODS MARKET.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, June 12.—The day's trading in dry goods was steady in the cotton goods division with every evidence given of a broadening interest on the part of jobbers and converters. Cotton yarns are steadier. Fine and fancy cottons are in better call among retailers. Large print cloths sales have been made. Dress linens continue active and burlaps are still weak. The general trend in the market is toward the fuller demand.

MARKET GOSSIP.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, June 12.—The demonstrative bidding up in today's market of a miscellaneous lot of industrial stocks and specialisties not unusually conspicuous did not serve to keep up an effective demand for the usually active trading stocks. The general market was languid and the tone became heavy after the probability of another large loan expansion by the banks came into discussion. The large percentage of the increase in bank clearings this week over the corresponding week last year, proves due in large part to the New York city increase. The degree in which increased speculation is responsible is implied in the comparison of this week's sales at the stock exchange of 5,629,600 shares of stocks and $35,926,000 par value of bonds while for the week ending June 12,1908 sales were 1,667,300 shares of stocks and $11,317,000 par value of bonds.

The large bond transactions by new issues going on at the financial centre also account for the violent expansion in banking activity. The copper industrials were weak and discussion of the copper producers association statistics bore on the possibility of a concealed surplus of stocks in second hands and of raw copper not ready for delivery in the productors hands. A rise of a point in United States in the late dealings had a rallying effect on stocks but the market closed irregular. Bonds were irregular. The total sales, par value, were $2,848,000 United States 4s registered have declined 1-4c on call during the week. Total sales of stocks today 387,500 shares.

FINANCIAL MARKET.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, June 12.—Money on call nominal. Time loans steady sixty days 2 1-2 to 2 1-2 per per., ninety days 2 3-4 per cent, six months 3 1-2 to 3 3-4 per cent. Close: Prime mercantile paper 3 1-2 to 4 per cent. Sterling exchange firm with actual business in bankers bills at 4.8995 to 4.86 for sixty day bills and at 4.8775 to 4.8780 for demand . Commercial bills 4.85 3-8 to 4.85 3-4. Bar silver 52 5-8. Mexican dollars 44.

A CURE FOR DYSPEPSIA.

That is what a sufferer from dyspepsia writes about Rydale's Stomach Tablets: "I have taken a box of your stomach tablets. They have done me more good than anything I have ever taken for Dyspepsia. I have had it nearly all my life. I feel so thankful I have found something that will help me for only those who have this disease know what it is."

Miss Nettie Springs, Tarlorstown, Va.

Rydale's Stomach Tablets will relieve at once all forms of Indigestion and Dyspepsia, and soon effect a permanent cure of the most severe and long standing cases. Sold and guaranteed by R. R. Bellamy.

Women Who Are Envied.

Those attractive women who are lovely in face form and temper are the envy of many, who might be like them. A weak, sickly woman will be nervous and irritable. Constipation or Kidney poisons show in pimples, blotches, skin eruptions and a wretched complexion. For all such, Electric Bitters work wonders. They regulate Stomach, Liver and Kidneys, purify the blood; give strong nerves, bright eyes, pure breath, smooth, velvety skin, lovely complexion. Many charming women owe their health and beauty to them. 50c at R. R. Bellamy's.

STIEFF

Official Piano of the Jamestown Exposition. "The Piano with the sweet tone." Can you believe what you see with your own eyes, and hear with your own ears? Is it not a notable fact that the STIEFF Piano has been and is being used by every Musical fete in this city of late? Is it because they cannot get other pianos? Not by any means, it is because the STIEFF is the piano of quality, rich, melodious, easy of action, responsive, brilliant without harshness and especially adapted to accompany the human voice. Artists recognize these unsurpassed qualities of the STIEFF.

We also make the Matchless Shaw and sell it to you direct from factory at one profit, just as we sell the STIEFF; easy payments if you wish—you would not feel the cost, which is very small for such high-grade instruments. We sell cheaper pianos, which are fully guaranteed. Call at your home piano store and select the one you like best. We will take your old piano or organ in exchange and allow full value. Investigate. # BASE BALL

National League.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Cincinnati, O., June 12.—Sensational fielding marked today's game. Mathewson pitched great ball throughout, only one of the locals reaching third base.

Cincinnati .. ...000 000 000—0 4 0
New York .. ....000 010 001—2 8 1

Ewing, Rowan and McLean; Mathewson and Myers. Time 1:45. Umpires Klem and Kane.

Pittsburg, June 12.—Wilhelm was not effective today and Pittsburg easily defeated Brooklyn 10 to 1, thus making twelve straight victories for the home team.

Pittsburg .....300 231 10x—10 13 1
Brooklyn .. ..001 000 000— 1 8 4

Canitz and Gibson; Wilhelm and Bergen. Time 1:40. Umpires Cusack and Johnston.

St. Louis, June 12.—Philadelphia took the second game of the series from St. Louis 3 to 2 today. Dooin's wild throw to third in the third inning allowed two St. Louis players to score.

St. Louis .. ....002 000 000—2 2 0
Philadelphia ....000 120 000—3 10 1

Sallee, Moore and Bresnahan; Moren and Dooin. Time 1:45. Umpires Enslie and O'Day.

Chicago, June 12.—Boston was shut out today by Kroh's pitching and brilliant fielding back of him, neither of Chicago's errors doing any damage.

Chicago .. .....100 000 01x—2 5 2
Boston .. .....000 000 000—0 8 2

Kroh and Moran; Tuckey and Graham. Time 1:30. Umpires Rigler and Truby.

American League.

New York, June 12.—Chicago won 5 to 3 in an uneven game today. New York made half its hits and all its runs in the first inning Smith of Chicago thereafter pitching a strong game.

Chicago .. .....031 000 100—5 9 0
New York .. ...300 000 000—3 6 4

Smith and Sullivan; Chesbro, Warhop, Hughes and Knleaw and Blair. Umpire O'Loughlin. Time 2:00.

Philadelphia, June 12.—Philadelphia won today 4 to 1 by driving Powell off the rubber.

Philadelphia ....112 000 00x—4 13 4
St. Louis .. ....001 000 000—1 4 1

Bender and Thomas; Powell, Graham and Stephens. Time 1:45. Umpires Connolly and Hurst.

Washington, June 12.—Detroit played poorly today and Groom held them safe in a batting way, allowing but four hits, Washington winning easily 6 to 2.

Washington .. ..100 103 10x—6 15 1
Detroit .. .....000 000 200—2 4 4

Groom and Street; Summers, Suggs and Schmidt and Stanage. Umpires Egan and Sheridan. Time 1:40.

Boston, June 12.—Cleveland won from Boston today 4 to 0. Up to the ninth it was an event contest both teams playing good ball.

Cleveland .. ....000 000 004—4 9 0
Bonston .. .. ..000 000 000—0 3 5

Berger and Bemis; Cicotte and Carrigan. Time 1:55. Umpires Evans and Perrine.

Batteries: Merritt and Philbin; White and Dawson. Time 2:20. Umpire Betts.

Game at Boardman.

Boardman, N. C., June 11.—Boardman and Fairmont crossed bats here this afternoon in one of the most interesting games ever played here. It was a pitchers' battle between Covington and Floyd. Aside from this the features were the playing of Miller at short for Boardman, and a one-hand catch of Covington's long drive in right field by Galloway of Fairmont. Score:

Boardman .....300 000 001—4
Fairmont .....000 020 001—3

Batteries—Covington and Covington; Floyd and Pitman. Umpire Phil Jones.

JEFFRIES HAS REFUSED.

To Referee Ketchel-Johnson Fight—Anxious For Him to Win.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Montreal, June 12.—James J. Jeffries refuses to referee the fight between Stanley Ketchel and Jack Johnson next October, although requested by Ketchel to act.

Jeffries said today: "Ketchel wants me to referee his fight with Johnson; but right here, I say 'no.' I am heart and soul with Ketchel in that fight. I want to see him win. How would it look for me to get into the ring as a third man with that feeling on me?"

"My sympathies are with Ketchel or any other white man who fight Johnson for the championship and I hope that Ketchel will beat him for it will simply save me the trouble."

Boston, June 12.—Jack Johnson gave out the following signed statement tonight: "It is now conceded on every hand that Jeffries has been bluffing the public about meeting me. I am ready to box every week in the year if I am given my price for my services. I bar no man who has any right to challenge. I will ignore all the others if he will sign to meet me; for I regard a match with Jeffries as the surest way of proving that I am in truth the world's champion."

MINING BROKER ARRESTED.

Charges Preferred by Eight New York Investors—France.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Los Angeles, Cal., June 12.—Lionel R. Hare, mining broker, club man and former manager of the Mongaroch Alaska Mining Co., is in jail here charged by eight New York investors with defrauding them out of $50,000. Hare's bail is $50,000, under the law by which he is held.

Among the complainants is William R. Coe, a son-in-law of the late H. H. Rogers. He is said to have lost $10,000 in Hare's scheme.

CHEWING GUM TRUST

Seven Million Dollar Combine Formed in New York.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, June 12.—Organization of the Sen Sen Chiclet Company with a capital of $6,700,000 which will take over the business of six of the largest factories of chewing gum in the United States and Canada was completed in New York tonight. T. B. Dunn, of Rochester, N. Y., was elected president.

George C. May, former chief of police of Union, S. C., and a brother of Fire Chief May, of Columbia, S. C., died at Union yesterday. May had been in declining health for several years but at a baseball game two weeks ago, as a result of trouble with an intoxicated man, he had several severe hemorrhages from the effects of which he never recovered.

At Buena Vista, Va., yesterday, Judge Houston denied a new trial in the case of Mrs. William Campbell, convicted last Wednesday of manslaughter and sentenced to the penitentiary for two years, for killing her brother-in-law, W. A. Amos. An appeal probably will be taken to the Supreme Court. Mrs. Campbell is out on $2,000 bail.

To avoid serious results take Foley's Kidney Remedy at the first sign of kidney or bladder disorder such as backache, urinary irregularities, exhaustion, and you will soon be well. Robt. R. Bellamy.

NOTICE!

Having on June first purchased the entire interest of Mr. Ralph Kennedy in the fresh meat business, conducted at the stand Southeast corner of 7th and Castle streets, I will now give my entire time and attention to the management of the same.

Very truly,
E. B. SNIPES.

Formerly with Sternberger Bros.

The Ralph Kennedy Market Co., will be conducted under the old name and with the addition of fresh capital the business will be enlarged to meet the demands of the general public.

We will cater to the wholesale as well as retail trade and carry a complete line of Native and Western Meats. Also will make a specialty of home grown vegetables. Also watermelons and canteloupes, chickens and eggs. We solicit a trial order and will then rely on our prompt delivery and quality of goods as to whether we are entitled to your patronage. We will also retain Mr. Bob Jones the expert meat cutter.

LUMBER AND SHINGLE MILLS

The largest stock of cypress shingles carried in the State. We always have over a million in stock.

We make 13 different grades and sizes, varying from $2.00 to $10.00 per M. Our shingles are recognized in the Northern Markets, as well as in the West Indies, as the very highest standard, both in grade and manufacture. "We have a standing guarantee that " we give (2) good ones for (1) bad one."

Don't buy any shingles that do not have W. W. Koch in large type on every bundle.

We do not dip the ends of our shingles in red ocre to hide windshakes and other defects. Don't buy until you get our prices and compare the shingles. We make and dispose of 20,000 shingles per day.

We furnish all the shingles for the government at Fort Caswell, ours being the only shingles that stand government inspection.
